"Now playing at Armijo" shows the parallels between Armijo High School and the movies. Like the movies, our lives are ever changing. At times we may feel like we are living in a horror movie... after we have flunked a math test, or a romance film... passing our crush in the hall. But above all, we know we have the support and direction of our teachers, parents, and peers.

Leaders and followers, heroes and villains, we rely on one another and know that we add a different dimension to this already complex movie. We encourage you to embrace the role you have chosen and continue to make Armijo an award-winning movie.

Fairy Tales

Once upon a time there was a night filled with enchantment and wonder. Instead of having the floats on a flatbed, the students were forced to make portable back-drops because of the new track. That didn't stop them from being creative. The freshmen came in second place, instead of their usual last place. They performed Beauty and the Beast. The sophomores presented Alice and Wonderland. They took a surprising first place! The juniors did Peter Pan and took last. The seniors acted out Snow White and were surprised with a third place finish.

[Top] "My favorite part about being on the float was when I had my solo dance part." Blake Zopfi '09 [Left] The juniors lift their Peter Pan after a stunning win over Captain Hook.

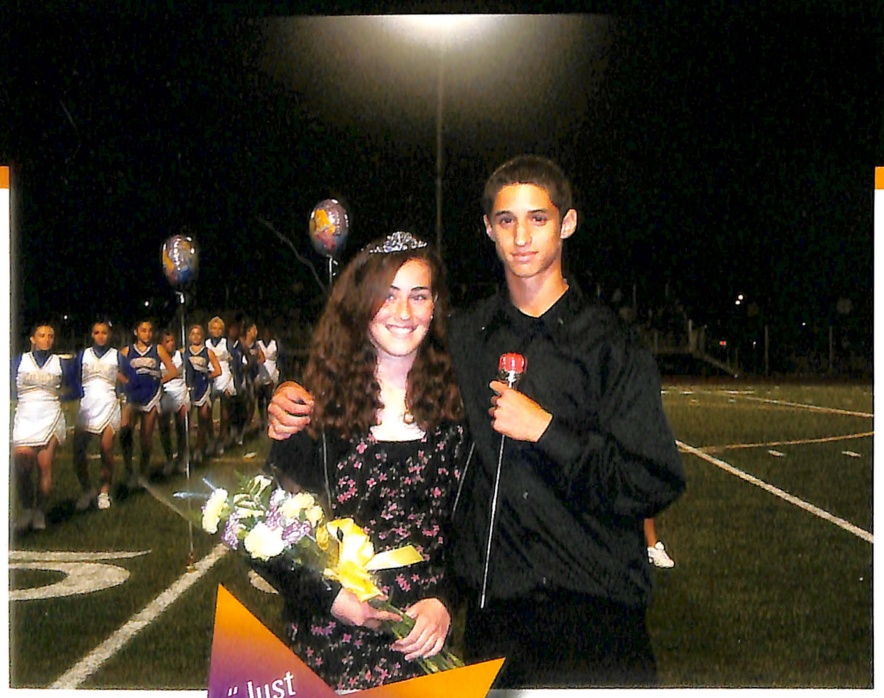
From Touchdowns to Royal Crowns

Nerves and anticipation built as the homecoming nominees stood center field during half-time of the varsity game to hear whether or not they had won the title of homecoming prince or princess. The nominees were put through an overwhelming week of elections and participated in the annual homecoming assembly. Usually, homecoming is considered to be a popularity contest. When Senior Sean Lynn was about this he replied, " Yes, but not this year. All the nominees were nominated for a reason and all of them looked great!"



"Just to be nominated is an honor." Stephaine Diaz '09

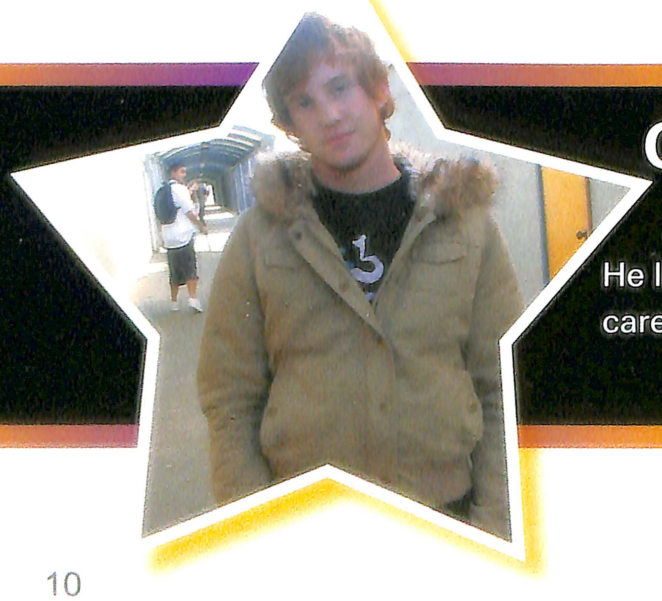
Senior, Chris Lara and Juniors, Brittney Smith and Amanda Watts like to wear tons of accessories and rocker clothing.

Juniors, Clara Dellenbach and Lizet Ramirez sport almost identical white jackets with fur trim while out at lunch.



Close Up: Jack Lambert

Jack Lambert ('07) has a unique style that seemed to have started a trend. He likes to wear "girl pants", band name shirts, and tight jackets. He doesn't care what others think, as long as he is comfortable.

Red Carpet Worthy

Fashion is the most popular way to express yourself. There are so many different people in the world today that there are bound to be many different styles. Sophomore Annika Bruning believes that fashion repeats itself throughout decades, but a new fashion first starts by someone who is creative and brave enough to try something new. Some pieces of clothing that repeated throughout the halls were lace shirts, sequin belts, pumps, and sparkling flats. Many people were spotted wearing puff jackets with fur trim. New looks for guys were brightly colored polos and pants ranging from baggy to girl pants. Custom made and studded belts were also quite popular. Diana Perez ('07) was seen as a fashion icon. She came up with her style from things that caught her eye in stores, magazines, and television.

Many teens tried to find their own style. Some even went to the extent of making their own clothes to ensure that they were completely original. Jack Lambert ('07) designed and made his own clothes that many people were inspired by. His unique style made others want to find their own style.

The styles around campus changed from group to group, but with all the different kinds of clothing everyone still found a way to make sure they were looking good and red carpet worthy!

Many students enjoy eating on the benches on main campus. Lunch is a great chance to finish any homework or socialize with friends.

Let's do Lunch

Lunch wasn't just about long lines and loud music, it was a time for students to interact with one another and have a break from stressful school work. Lunch was spent in a variety of ways around campus. Some students took naps in cars, or like Junior McRyan David said,"Do the dummie while listening to slaps." Some enjoyed playing chess, hanging out on benches, chatting in classrooms or socializing in hallways.However, some waited in long lines for the food they desired.

A variety of munchies and drinks were sold in the cafeteria and at lunch carts. Sophomore Brittne' Bennett said, "My favorite thing to do is eat chips and hang out with my girls in the hallways."

When lunch was over, everbody said their goodbyes and hurried to class. No matter how short, it was a break that many needed to get through the rest of the day. Lunch always provided lots of fun, laughter, and good times for the students.

Stormy Tieger '07 strikes a pose with a group of friends under the over-hang on main campus. They enjoy hanging out by this particular spot by the Indian Outpost so they can get their food fast. Stormy said,"This is how we do!!"

Close up: Zach Westbrook

Zach Westbrook ('07) sits in his friend's, Taylor Wickers, car since he doesn't have one of his own. Zach and his friends crack jokes to each other to make sure that lunch is never dull.

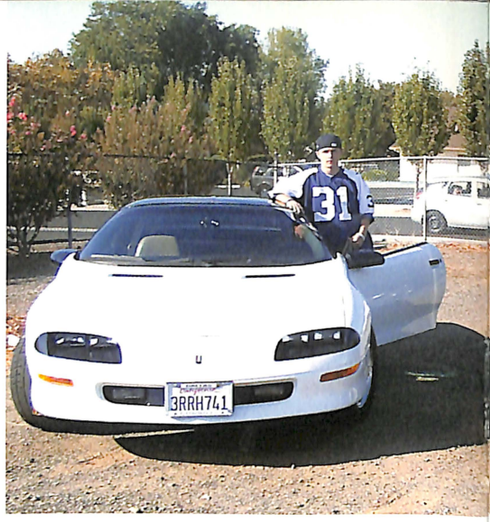
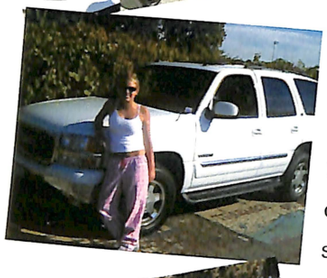
Marie Freschl ('07) enjoys listening to music. Marie said,"All my friends drive so we all park close to each other and play loud music."

Taylor Wickers ('07) and friends hang out by his "gold mini-space shuttle."

2 Fast 2 Furious



Some recognize this as a movie title, others think of it as how fast they drive when in a hurry. If you drove, or knew someone who did, chances are that you were in their social circle. Whether you were heading to or from school, cruising around on the weekend, or just running errands, driving always gave an advantage over others who didn't drive. If you had a big family, or a lot of friends, having a bigger car would have helped you out. Junior Nicole Toutjian said, " I like my '97 Chevy Tahoe because it can fit a lot of people, but it is a gas guzzler." With the price of gas rising, small cars had the benefit. Senior Caitlin Kelly had a '97 Jetta and said, "My car is the best looking car in the parking lot, besides Kelly Cooney's."



Who likes to drive fast? Everyone! That is why sports cars were in. Especially with the new 2006 Mustangs out, everyone wanted speed. While some saved up for their cars, others got them as a gifts. As long as they could drive "fast and furious", they didn't care how they got their car.

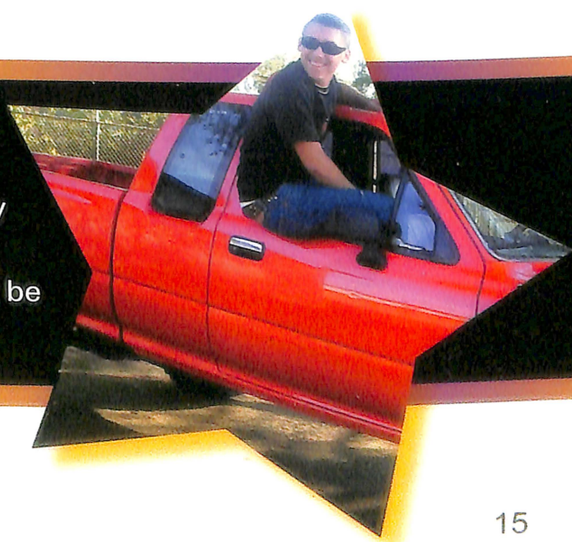
Jon Ware '06 (left) has a Delt Oldsmobile with 24 inch rims. He has a chameleon paint job that turns 10 different colors.

Close Up: Clifton McCargar

Clifton is a 16 year old Sophomore who drives a '90 Toyota. He got it in May of 2005 for his 16th birthday. He likes to go four-wheeling and take off the doors to his truck. He says he gets a lot of stares from people but that might be because he drives fast and listens to loud music.



Close Up: Lisa Nielson

What better way to make money than by doing what you love? For Senior Lisa Nielson, playing piano was not only a hobby, but an occupation. After playing at a graduation, a teacher asked her to give piano lessons to her six-year-old daughter. She realized this was a money making venture and hasn't stopped since.

[Below] Friends Natalie Victorio '06 and Anthony Washington '06 have many fun times working at the Halloween Store. [Right] Senior Cassie Lum said, "The best thing about working at Blue Frog is being there with my best friend Alexis Kofoed."

Senior Edwin Herbert, who had horrible experiences with his two previous jobs, is "relieved to work at the Veggie Tales cart."

For the Love of Money

Clothes, shoes, cars, gas, games, vacations... What more could a teenager ask for? For some students, these equated to an afterschool job. Students managed to find a variety of jobs, from McDonalds to Raleys to the Halloween Store. Students liked having independence and the pride of knowing they earned their money. "I like having a job. I don't have to ask my parents for money and it allows me to spend my money however I choose," commented Junior Czarina Basita about her decision to get her first job at Taco Bell. Students aren't the only ones who are happy about afterschool jobs. When asked what her parents thought about her having a job, senior Jenny Tice replied, "My mother not only encourages it, she requires it!" So whether you work for your own benefit, or your parents force you, you're not alone.

It's Ladies Night

Sadie Hawkins was one of the most anticipated dances of the year. The role-reversing dance was a chance for the girls to experience the same anxiety that males felt when asking someone to a dance. Many of the students asked a boyfriend, or a close male friend. Some, like sisters Senor Rimah and Sophomore Ranyah Karaouni, came with each other. Others came with people from other schools. "I actually came with my girlfriend from Folsom. She had a really good time and said the dance was a lot better than the dances at her school." Said Trevor Wilson '08. Whether you invited your crush, or came with a best friend, everyone had a blast!

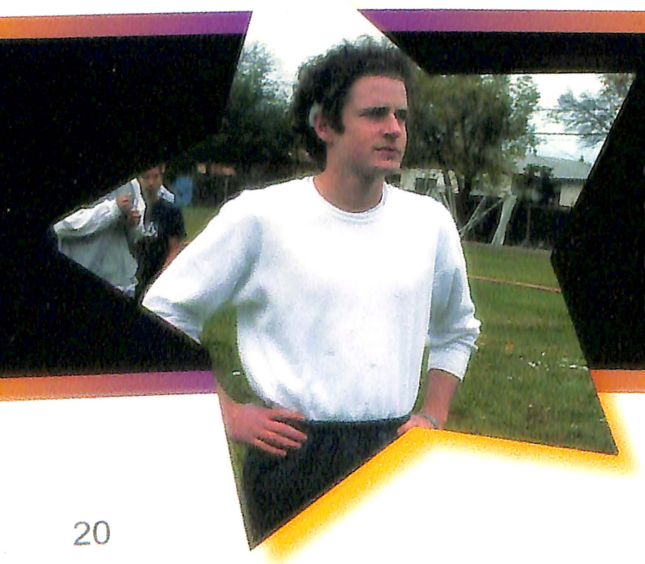
Freshman Michael Hardy participates in the "bobbing for Barbies". This event is like bobbing for apples except participants bob for Barbie doll parts, and put the doll together at the end.

Seniors Chris Elder and his partner wheel barrow each other in the obstacle course. Chris says, "This part of the race was very intense. It was a deciding factor in the race."



Close Up: Joesph Arnold

Joesph '06 is a 17 year old who enjoys poetry and his dog, Baxter. He plays varsity football and track. He participated in Wednesday Night Jam because he's in leadership and all of his friends did it too. He said, "Wednesday Night Jam was dope-tastic." In his free time he likes to hang out with his girlfriend, Michelle.

Wednesday Night Lights

Twice a year the Leadership class put on an event called Wednesday Night Jam. It was a school wide competition between classes. The students signed up for many different events. This year, Chubby Bunny was the first activity. Senior Julian Quinonez won the competition with flying colors. Teams also competed in "Cheeto and Shaving Cream," "Bobbing for Barbies," "The Water Balloon Toss," "Holes in the Bucket" and the "Relay Race". Senior Edwin Herbert, pictured top right, was the announcer. The Seniors took first place, followed by the Juniors in a close second. Senior Giana Raccanello said, "It was a good way to bring the classes closer together. I'm sad I won't be here next year to participate in it." For those who graduated early, Wednesday Night Jam was the last time they had a chance to participate in a school sponsored event and show their Armijo spirit.

[Left] Fans support their class and cheer them to victory. "The Seniors did a great job. It was awesome!" Said Lauren Robinson '06.

[Left] Students participate in many events to show their school spirit. Everyone who attended loved the event. "I loved it, said Kristen Sonntag '07,"I wish we could have them more often."

The girls worked very hard in practice to plan offense and defense that would assure them a win. "Practice was really fun, but it was also really cold." Said Jessica Toolson '07.

Roll Reversal

"Powder Puff was a fun and exhilarating experience," said Katie Wiggins '06. The Freshmen started off the game with impressive strategies. "Beating the Sophomores was a great accomplishment," said Alisha Fernandez '09. The Seniors came into the game verses the Juniors with high hopes, but soon realized they were going to need a miracle to stop Michelle Little '07 from scoring touchdowns. Edwin Herbert '06 announced the game and made the crowd laugh hysterically the entire time. The game went smoothly, with no injuries. The cheerleaders performed at the rally with great energy and made the crowd go wild. The Senior cheerleaders won over the judges' hearts with an emotional ending to their skit, playing "Don't Forget About Us". All the cheerleaders and the football players worked extremely hard and had a great time. This year, Powder Puff was a great success!

[Right] The JV Powder Puff teams are setting up for an intense play. These ladies played hard and didn't let the rain stop them. The Freshmen dominated, but the Sophomores never gave up hope.

Close Up: Michelle Little

Michelle is a 16 year old Junior who enjoys playing soccer. In her free time she hangs out with her boyfriend, Joe. She said, "I liked beating the Seniors, and playing on the new football field under the lights. Also, the announcer, Edwin Herbert, was making me laugh the entire game."

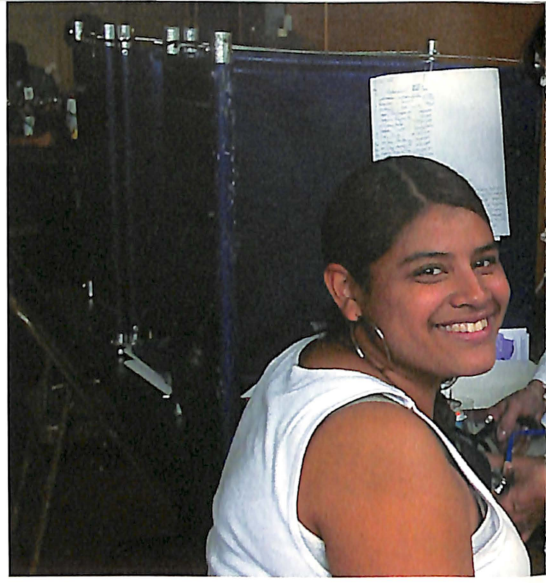
The Senior team came into the game with high hopes, but the Juniors dominated the entire game. Even though they lost, almost all the players had a good time and said they were glad they participated.

The Juniors pose for the camera after a stunning victory. Coaches Sean Martin and Chris Olson looked very professional the whole night with their khaki pants and clipboards.

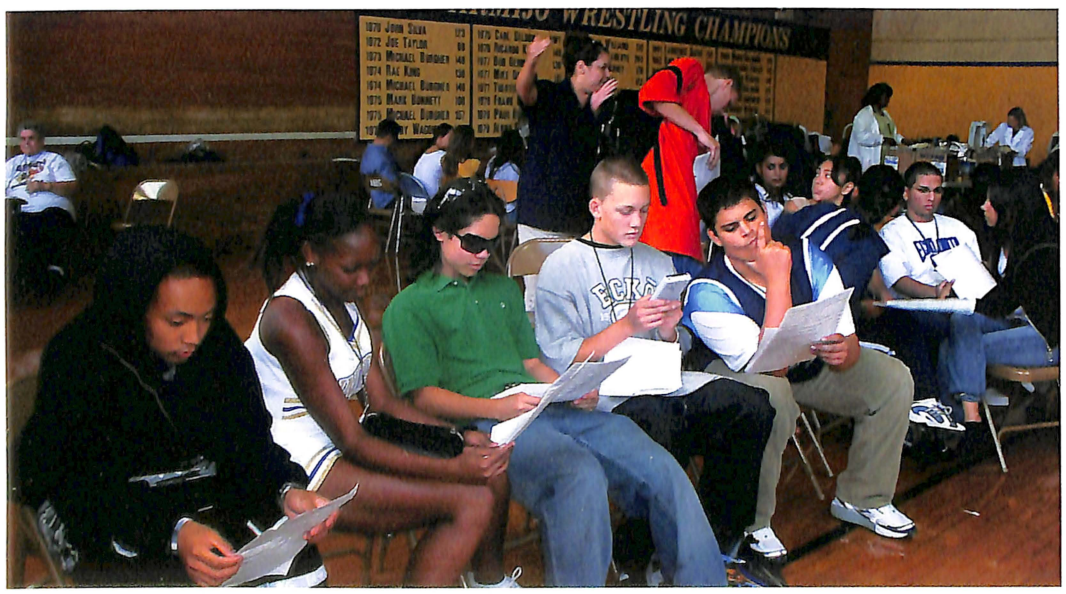
Saving Lives

Most teenagers go though life so worried about their own problems that they don't think about the people around them who may need their help. But, for the students who donated blood at the blood drive, it was a different story. "I've always wanted to donate but I've never gotten the chance to until this year," Susana Cervantes '06 said. "You get to help people who are in need and it doesn't hurt that bad."

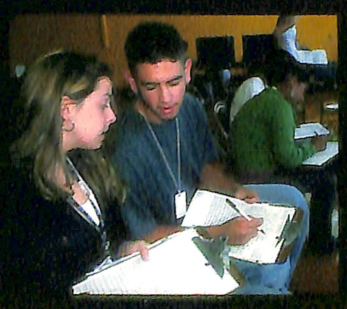
Not all students donated at the blood drive. Brittanni Murphy '06 said she has never donated blood and probably never will. "I hate needles. I want to help people out but I'm so scared of needles that I don't think I could ever do it." Other students, even if afraid of needles, still donated because it was a small thing they could do to make a big difference in someone's life. Besides the great feeling, students also enjoyed the free food. Regardless of the motive, the blood bank greatly appreciated all the donations.

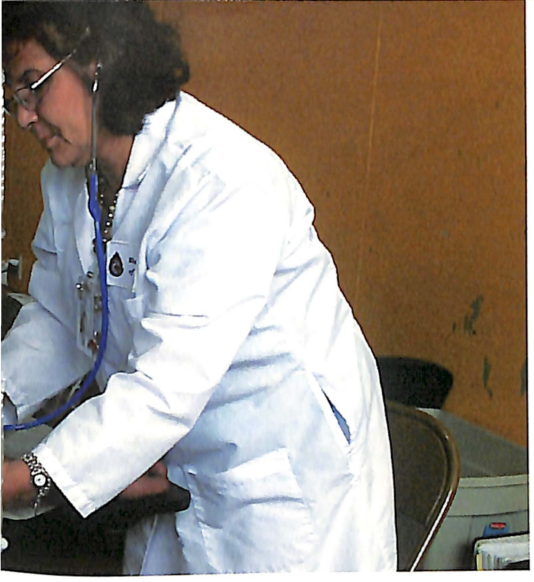


Students fill out forms in the gym as they wait for a nurse to call them to collect their information and make sure they are qualified to donate.



Donating blood was a long process. If a student wanted to donate, they first had to fill out a form. Then, they had to get their blood pressure taken. Finally, their blood was taken. After they were done, they were able to enjoy snacks before they headed back to class.





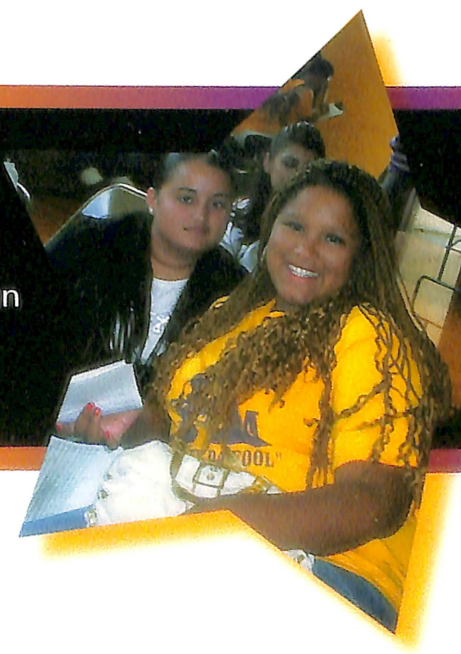
[Below] Malcolm Nichols '07 regains his strength after donating blood. "I donate because it is a good thing to do. You are helping save someone else's life."

Two students fill out forms so they can find out if they are able to donate. Both really hoped that they met the requirements because they were excited about donating.

Clifton McCargar '08 waits as he gets his blood pressure taken.

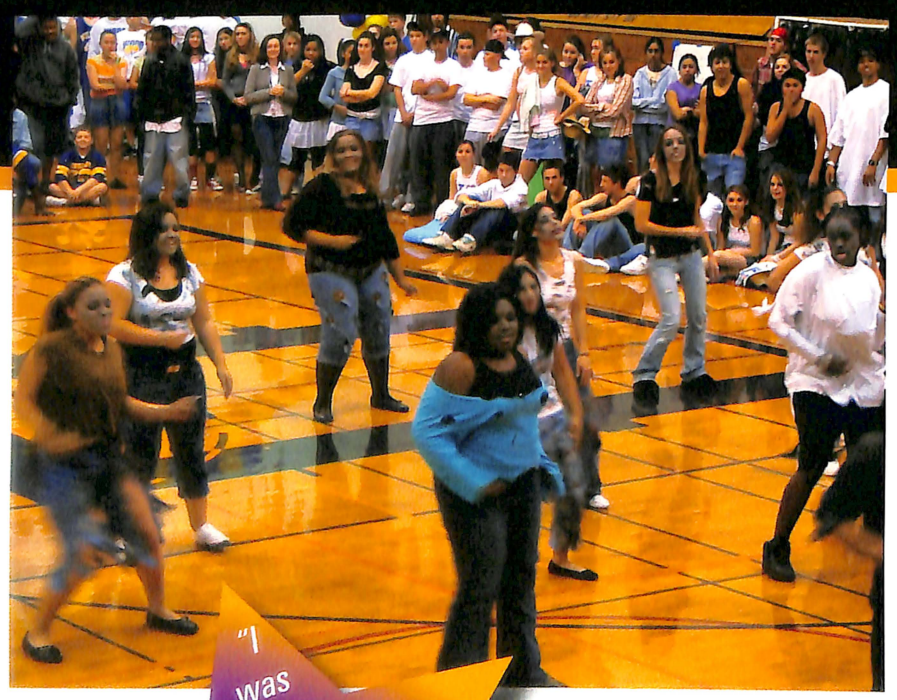
Close Up: Devonna Ballard

Devonna Ballard '06 has only donated blood at the school's blood drive for one year, but she already knows the good that can come from donating. "Even though I hate needles, I still donated because someone needs it more than I do."



The Sound of Music

Music rang through the gym floor as each class performed their skit. But this time it wasn't just the basic music that helped the skit progress, because this time the theme was Music Videos. Every class imitated a video or several videos from their chosen artists. When asked about whether or not music videos was a good theme students replied, "At first we didn't think it would be a good idea but now we think that everyone has interesting ideas on how they will perform different music videos!"



"I was so juiced to get out there to perform in front of the crowd!" - Ty Mclarty 08'

Teen Royalty

For most nominees, this was their first time being on the ballot. But for some, like Veronica Oquendo '06, this had happened before. "I won princess my freshman year," she said.
Making the final ballot, there were a lot of words used to describe how the nominees felt, including surprised, happy, and disbelieving." Shana Thompson '07 however was most excited about the addition to her wardrobe. "Yay, new dress!," she exclaimed.
Although everyone couldn't be crowned King or Queen, it was a great experience for all nominees.

Close Up: Jarrett Gilbert

Jarrett '06 was the A-Team co-head who got the crowd pumped up! When asked what he thought about when he went to a rival game, he said: "It's more rewarding to taunt the fans at a rival game because it's more personal rather than any other game."

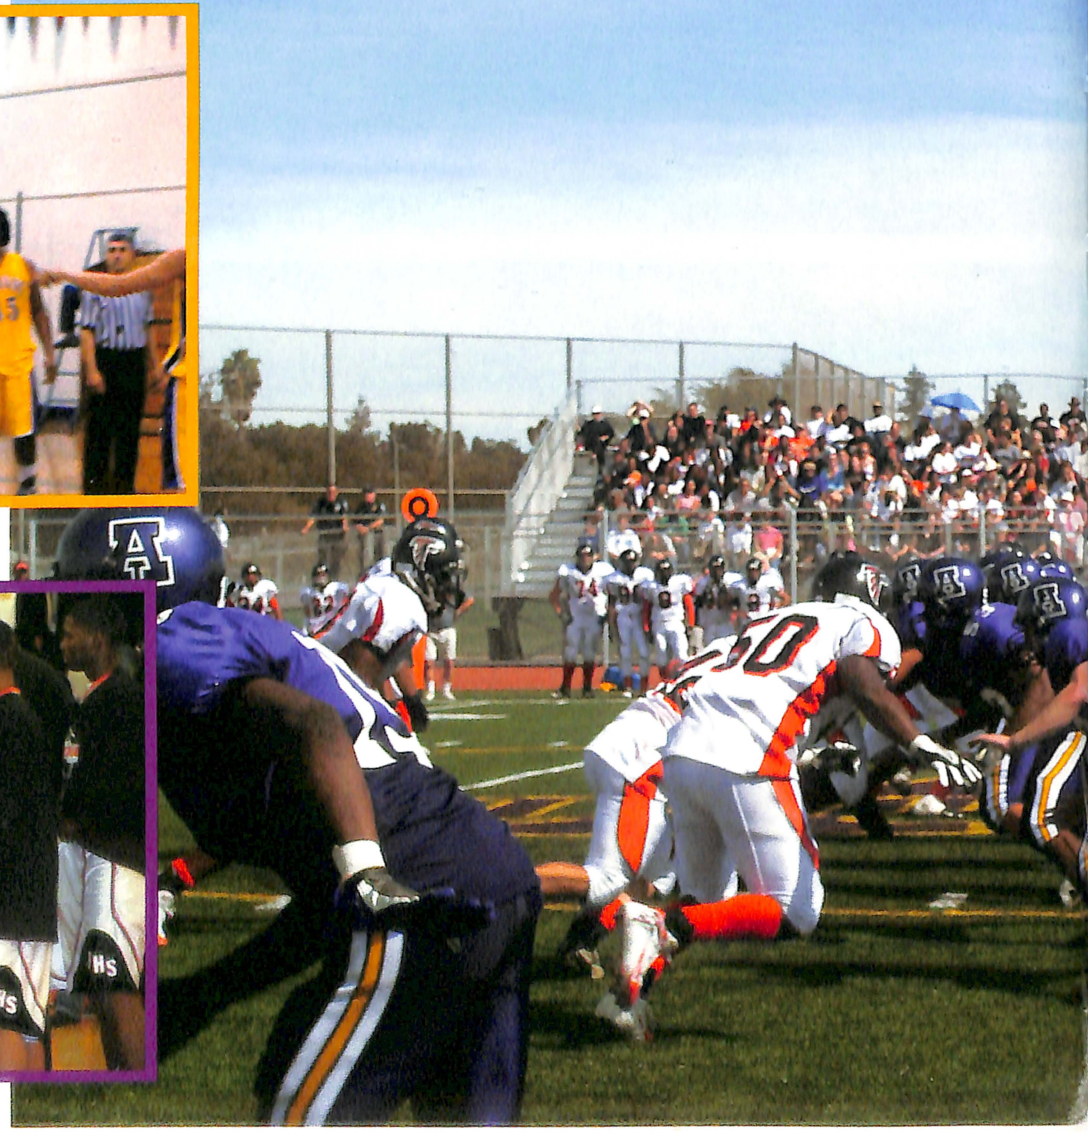
A Vacaville player shoots a free throw as Seniors Kimo Antoque and Derek Simmons await the rebound. Although Vacaville wasn't a local rival, there wasn't any friendly blood between the two teams.



Both teams send their captains to have a pre-game talk with the referees. Some rival games get very intense so accurate officiating is key.

The Outsiders

It's the game that got you pumped up more than ever! It's the game everyone couldn't wait to see and talked about for weeks. It's the rivalry game! Students could hear the drum rolls ringing down the hallways on big game days. Before, the biggest and only rival was Fairfield High, but this year, there was another rival, Rodriguez. Since all of the schools were so close together, each one competed for bragging rights, which made the games that much more intense. Senior Sean Lynn said that the most exciting thing about attending the game against Fairfield High was "The last three seconds of the game!" The games were exciting whether we won or lost, and continue to be a major part of our school spirit.

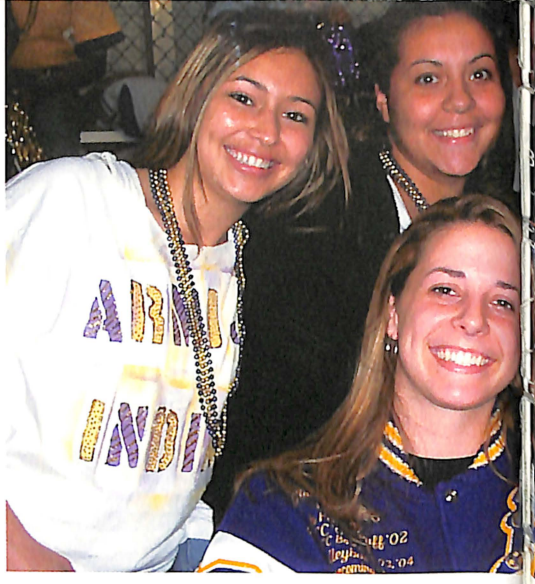
[Below] "Yeah! Go Armijo!"said Shana Thompson '07. "I love getting dressed up in purple and gold and supporting my team!" [Right] These upperclassmen wear their purple and gold at the football games and proudly represent Armijo.

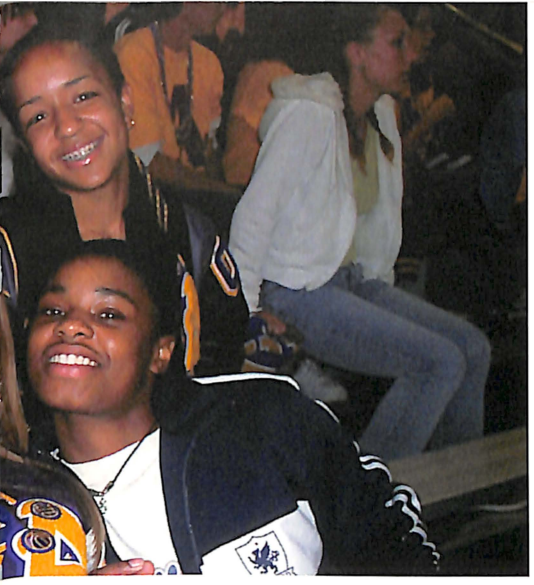


Juniors Pat Welsh and Thomas Brenner show off their A-Team shirts. Pat says, "This is the only purple and gold shirt I have to wear. Thanks Mr. B!"

The JV football team cheers the Varsity team to a victory. Eric Jones '08 says, "Next year I'm ready to step it up and continue representing Armijo."

Close up: Chiquita Quintor '06 and Cern Chow Saeteurn '06

These two people make the crowd go crazy! Chiquita sports a home made indian outfit, while Cern wears the A-TEAM jump suit. They both cheer for Armijo and wave our flag with pride. They like being involved in activities and representing our school.



Spirit Fingers

"Yell purple...PURPLE, yell gold... GOLD" The fans in the the crowd shouted with the cheerleaders. Erica Avalos '06 was asked how she showed school spirit and she said, "By wearing purple and gold...DUH!" The A-Team, made up of dedicated fans, spread throughout the stadium, which helped get the crowd pumped up. Sophomore Ty McClarty said, "I didn't miss a football game all season." Ty also tried to pump the crowd up by running with the mascots up and down the bleachers. When football season ended, the spirit continued for basketball, soccer, track, tennis, swimming, and all other sports.

Spirit wasn't just shown at the games, it was also shown throughout the campus. Freshman Dani Zumpano said, " I think our school spirit overpowers all the other schools." She wears purple and gold and encourages all her friends to also. On Fridays, the spirit marches pumped the players and the students up for all the sport activities. There was nothing like hearing "AHS!" in the halls in the morning to get the students ready to cheer and the athletes ready to play.

You've Got a Friend In Me

"Through good times, and bad times, I'll be by your side forever more... 'cause that's what friends are for."
That's What Friends Are For - Stevie Wonder

They were the ones who laughed and cried with you. They were the ones who knew you inside and out. They were the ones who stuck by you when worse came to worst. They were your friends.

When asked to sum up her friendships in one word, Stephaine Oriarte '09 replied, "spontaneous." Whether they had known each other since elementary, or had just met last year, friends had created memories worth a lifetime.

Some friendships developed by accident and some found a true companion in the most unlikely places. Similar to the movie "Toy Story," friends could have been direct opposites, but were still able to find that one thing that created a connection.

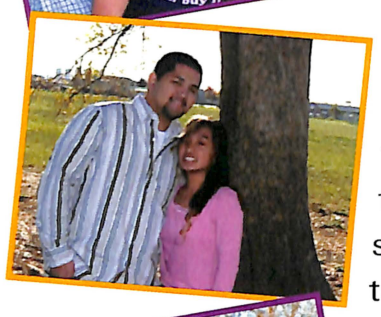
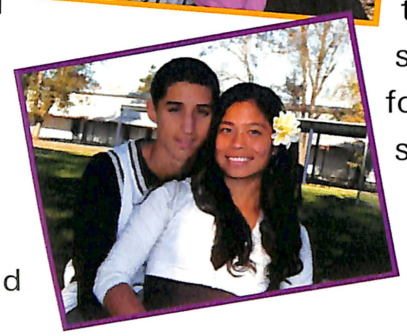
Never Been Kissed

" One moment you are living your life, and the next you are wondering how you ever lived without them."- Hitch

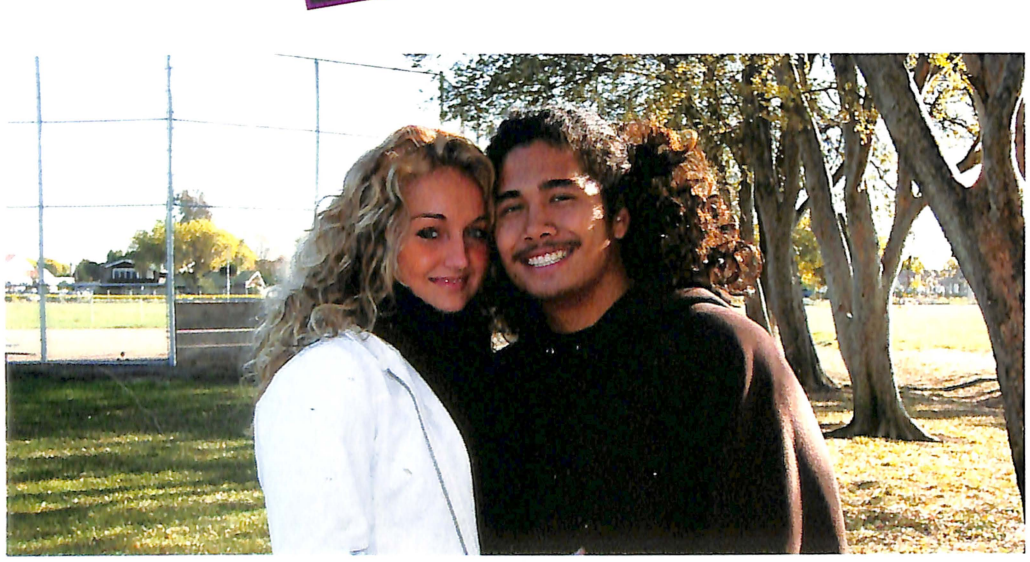
Dinner seemed to be the most common first date. Juniors Sonya Spala and Matt Russell went to Chevy's for their first date. Sonya said, "It was special because it was our first date and we had been friends for a long time. I was kind of surprised when he asked me out." Juniors Kristina Haugh and Victor Simionas have been dating for while. Victor said, "We like to hang out with each other. We get along really well." Whether someone's been with another person for two days, or two years, there were a bunch of good times that had been shared. People always took comfort in knowing someone was looking forward to seeing them at school.



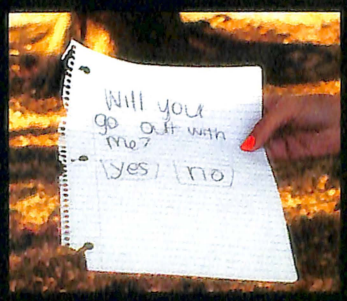


[Right] Junior, Alfred Molina and Senior, Tina Fent met each other at the beginning of the year. Tina was a German exchange student who couldn't resist an American boy.

[Center] Caitlin Kelly '06 and Austin Metcalf '06 stated, "We love just spending time together."

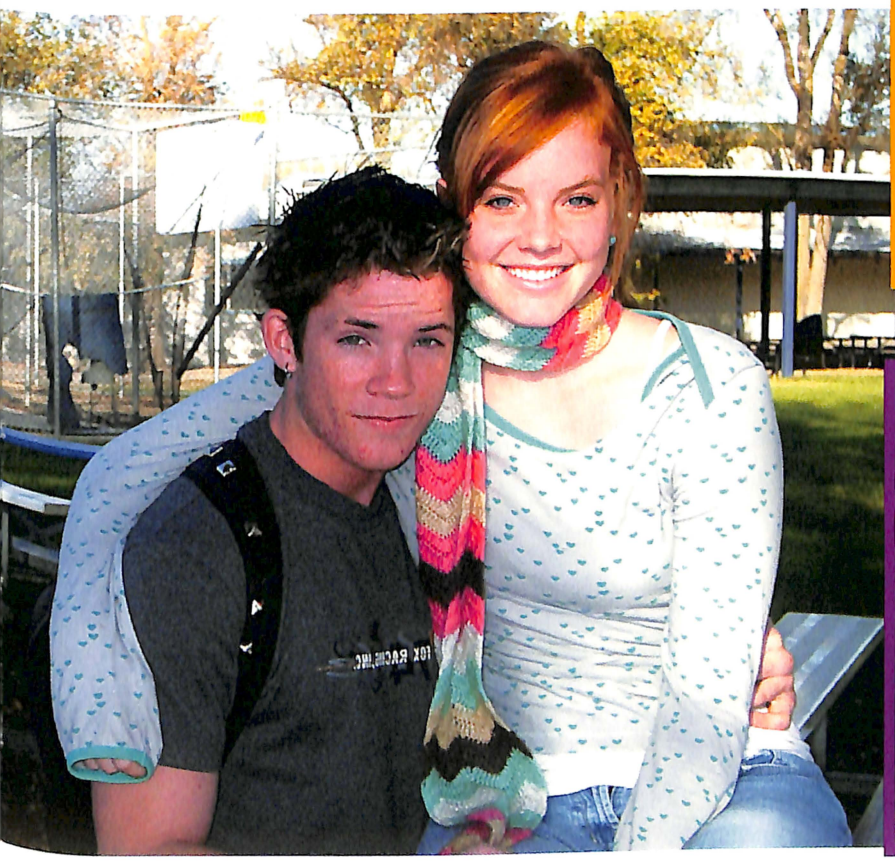


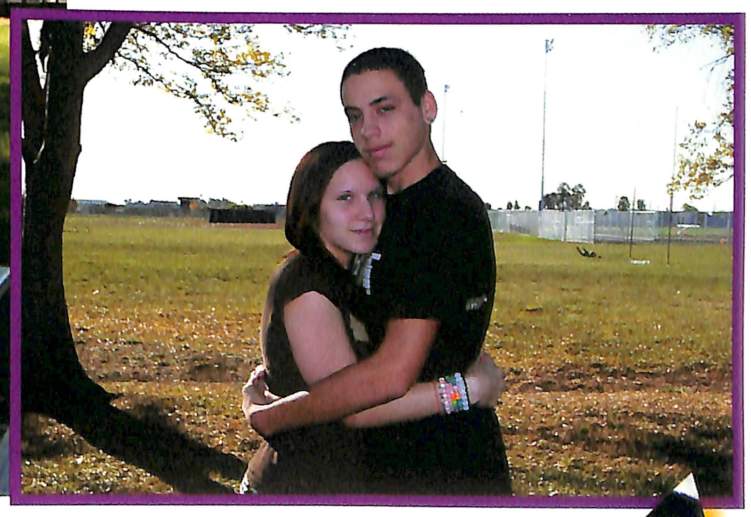
Seniors, Freddy Vera and Jessica Curtis have their ups and downs like any other couple, but they always find a way to work things out.



[Left] Juniors, Joel Hood and Katie Billingsley said, "We have so much fun goofing around and making fun of each other." [Above] Senior, Jalessa Jones and Junior, Terrel Dunn love being around each other. They have been dating for two years. Jalessa said, "My favorite memory was last Christmas when he bought me a puppy. I named him Chino; he's so cute!"

[Left] Juniors, James Girk and Anna Kraszewski get along very well. They said, "We had been friends for a while before we started dating, so we have a lot in common and always have fun together."

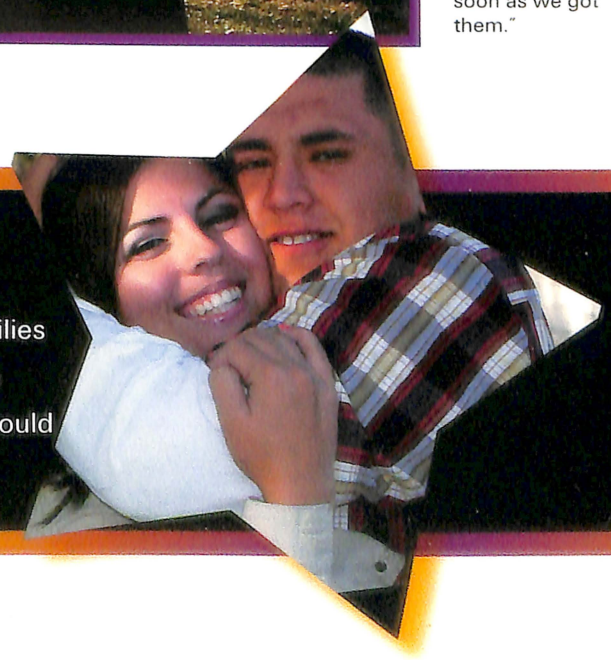




[Left] Senior, Sean Hallert and Junior, Becky Harper love spending time together. Becky said, "My favorite memory would have to be when we went out to dinner and Sean ordered the small plate and I ordered the big one. We switched as soon as we got them."

Close Up: Freddy and Jessica

Seniors: Freddy Vera and Jessica Curtis had been dating since March 7, 2004. Their families get along well and often spend time together. Jessica said, "We have been together for a while and probably will stay together for a long time. I don't know of any one else who would be able to put up with him." Freddy responded with a grin and hug.



Close Up: Meet the Herberts

Senior Edwin Herbert '06 and Julian Herbert '09 share a lot more in common then just their last name. These brothers not only see each other at home but also around campus, not to mention on the field. They both have a love for the game of football as they both were on the team this year.

[Right] Although they don't hang out together at school, Jon Antes '06 and his sister, Jen Antes '09, are still very close.

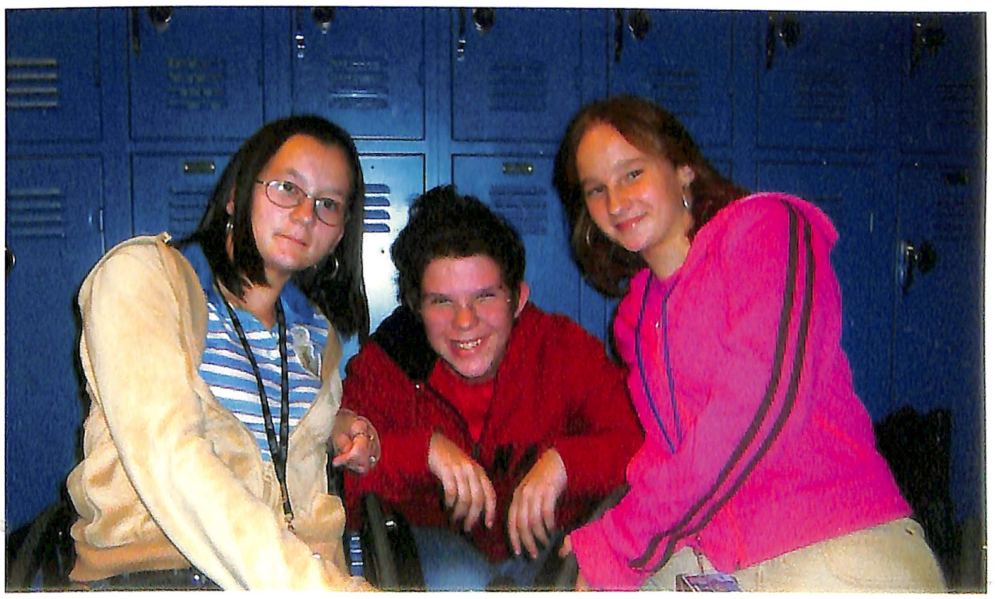
It's A Family Affair

It was one thing to have a family at home, but some people had family on campus. There were siblings who attended school together. For the newcomers, it was convenient to have a family member to turn to nearby. Whether they admitted it, or not, it was reassuring to always have a mentor at school to confide in. "She is always there for me, even when I'm hungry, she'd get me food," said Ariel Aveo '06, when he referred to his younger sister, Melanie Aveo '08.

No matter what, your family was always there for you to give you the support you needed and make each day easier to get through. Family wasn't just brothers and sisters. There were a lot of cousins at school who enjoyed seeing each other on a daily basis. "I see my cousin a lot around school, which is weird because I don't see him outside of school that much," said Carmella Southward '07 referring to her cousin Francisco Huzel '09.



Hannah '08 leans in with sisters Katie '07 and Xenia '07 Tom before they go enjoy their lunch. The Tom Family is famous for their "Extreme Makeover" home.

Close Up: Heather Dominguez-Cuevas

Heather Dominguez-Cuevas '06 is Spanish, African American, Argentinean, French, Arab, and European. Her hobbies included dancing, drumline, and listening to music.

A Cultural Cast

If you took a step on to our campus set, you would have been amazed at how diverse our student body was. Distinctive cultures and ethnicities gathered together on our very own campus grounds. "I am proud to be part of a diverse student body. It allows us to become well-rounded and prepared for a working environment of people of different backgrounds," said Senior John Chan.

Students were able to interact with people and peers of different cultures and ethnicities. As high school students, they not only learned from books and labs, but also from various nationalities and lifestyles. "My own group of friends is extremely diverse and I think it's great! We are all unique," said Senior Heather Dominguez-Cuevas. Diversity was one trait that set our school apart from the rest.

Chantel Freyslaben '06 smiles with Jenica Taitano '06 before class. Freyslaben is Hawaiian and Puerto Rican. Taitano is full Chamorro. They have been friends since junior high.

for intense competition, one thing remained the the game and the feeling of Armijo pride.

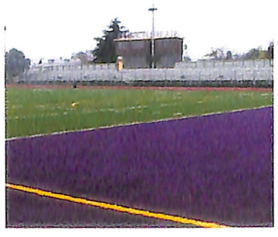
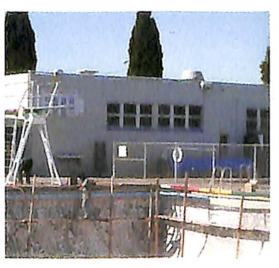
Extreme Makeover: School Edition

Our school has seen many changes, from new students, to new halls, to new staff. But this year's most noticeable change was the new sports facilies. "It feels good to be able to go to practice on something that costs so much money," said football player Dameion Butler '06.

Most believe it is an honor to be the first students to use the new facilities. Water polo player Ryan Heinemeyer '08 said, "I feel honored to be the first to use the pool because the old pool was really bad."

Besides making the teams feel better about having new equipment, the renovated track and field made the school look better. Natalie Macias '06, a passionate swimmer, exclaimed, "I think it shows a better representation of Armijo!"





The pool is receiving some last minute touches before it is to be filled with water.

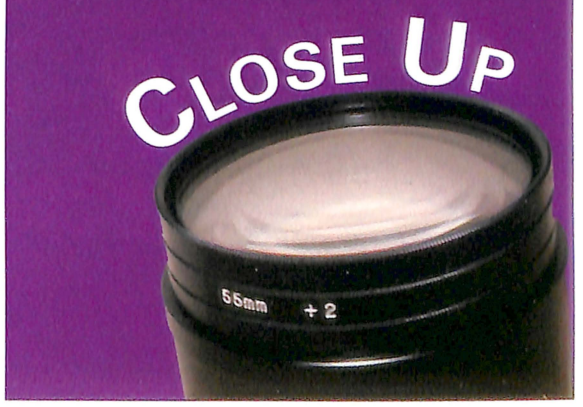
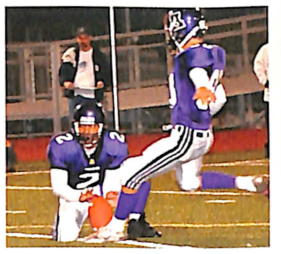
Rick Vacarro

Mr. Rick Vacarro was as excited as the rest of us when he saw the result of the architects' hard work on the new track and field. He also had a lot to do with the design. "I sat in on a lot of meetings and helped decide on the color scheme and the logo." After months of seeing dirt and machines, the final product was spectacular. "I think it looks great and I'm very happy with all the support from the parents and students."





Friday Night Lights

With Brownlee field finally renovated, the boys couldn't wait to start the season. Before they could touch the field, they had to go through conditioning. They spent most of the summer practicing, not once, but twice a day."My favorite part of practice is when we scrimmage, but I hate when we run." Anthony Washington '06.Practice was the key to the successful season they had. "Practice is where you can make mistakes and get them corrected." said Carl Hayles '07. The team made few mistakes in games which resulted in victories. Not only did they beat rival Rodriguez, but they spanked Fairfield for the fourth year in a row. After all they went through, at the end of each game, they proved to everyone why they were the best.

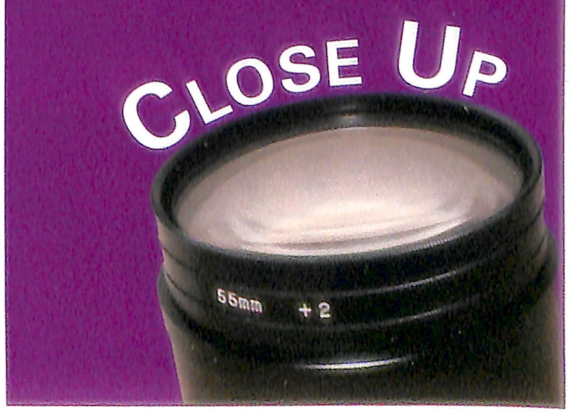
Edwin Herbert

Senior Edwin Herbert center/ defensive tackle has been an unstoppable machine for the past four years. Before games he likes to eat and do the team chant. His favorite part of playing is the support he gets from the fans."When the fans are on your side they get us pumped up."Herbert is inspired by Derek Simmons because he's a great play-maker. His favorite game of the season is against Fairfield. He loves the bragging rights after winning.



The Longest Yard

JV Football was more than just a team, they were one huge family. They worked hard as a team to make their season better. Eric Jones '08 said, "We Fight For Inches." With the new football field, they felt more confident. The new Brownlee Field, which was redone over the summer, was a huge asset to the team. The players said that having a new football field was nice because it seemed to improve the way they played. With coach McCampbell, and the other assistant coaches, they worked hard to play and win. Albert Gardner '08 said, "We always practiced with agressiveness and discipline!" Along with the coaches help and support, our school's fan base always made a huge difference. Tim Stewart '08 stated that, "The fans get us hyped up which boosts our confidence." They finished out the season with a record of 5-4. While it wasn't the perfect record, the team was still proud of their accomplishments.

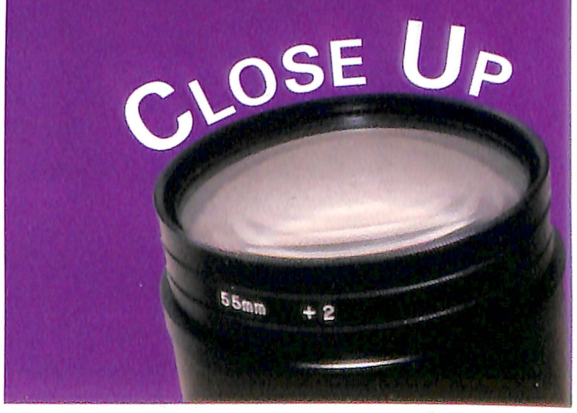
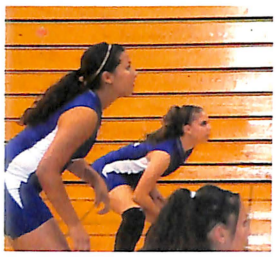
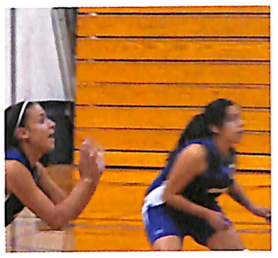
Kyle Coburn

Kyle Coburn '09 is a full back for the JV Football team. He has been playing football for about three years. To become a better player, Kyle works out and trains hard. His favorite part of being on the JV football team is playing on Friday nights. He is a huge benefit to the team because he is always giving his all during games and he is a great team player. Kyle says, "I'm so excited for next year because I'll be tearing it up." He is happy to be a part of the JV football team this year.







Can You Dig It?

It was the final point of the match and the crowd was on their feet. The volleyball players on the bench were enthusiastically cheering on their teammates. The players were nervously shifting back and forth in their ready position waiting for the ball to be served. The whistle sounded and the rival team served. The teams kept the ball up and rallied for a long time. They fought until the very end and put all their effort into the game, but it just wasn't enough. Even though our girls didn't win, they still consoled each other and players like Michelle Little '07 were still in good spirits,"It's okay, we'll get 'em next time!" Even though this year wasn't the best for our volleyball team, they ended up creating a special family bond that was shared between all the players. Lesenda Flores '06 said she liked playing on the Varsity team better than playing on JV because,"You have more difficult competition and you tend to work harder." Overall the players on the volleyball team had a successful year because they left the season with good attitudes, and for the ones returning next year, determination to do better.

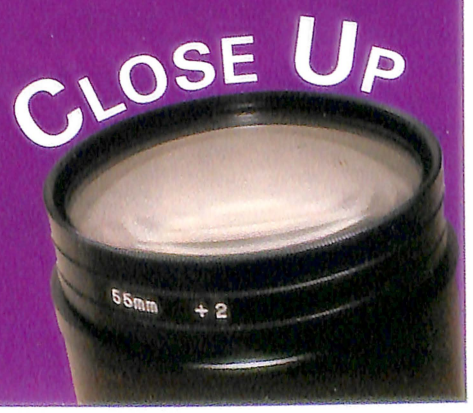
Natalie Victorio

Natalie is a senior who is on the girls varsity volleyball team. She has been playing volleyball since she was in the 6th grade, but has only been playing for Armijo three years. Natalie's most played position is right side hitter. Her most memorable volleyball moment was,"JV year, when we almost beat Davis but ended up losing 33-31." Even though Natalie works hard during practices, she has drills that she hates doing. She said,"Probably two person serve-receive perfect pass drill. You have to get a certain number of perfect passes, if you don't then everyone has to run lines."



Set It Off

At the beginning of August, JV volleyball practice started out very intensely. Not only did the girls have to get used to playing with each other, they also had to get used to a new coach. Mallory Obert '08 said, "It's different having a new coach this year because she does everything differently than our old coach." Some of the players enjoyed having a younger coach. "She's young so she's more fun and we connect with her more." said Victoria Barton '08. The girls all started playing volleyball for different reasons. Julie Mallin '08 said, "I started playing because it was a way to get involved with the school." While Livia Qasevaka-tini '09 said, "I wanted to do something new and it looked fun." This season JV improved immensly compared to last year. They worked hard to get where they were, "We conditioned non-stop," said Kelcie Brenner '09, "We ran so many lines, it sucked!" They all walked away learning something new. "Teamwork was the biggest thing I learned," said Arielle De Leon '09, "I learned to be more of a team player."

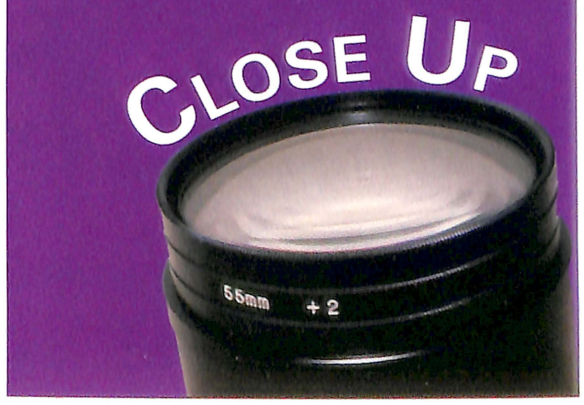
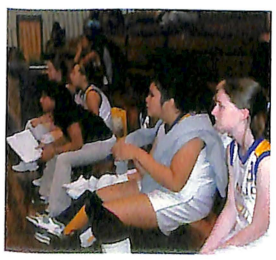
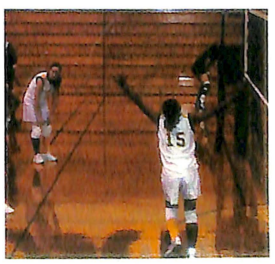
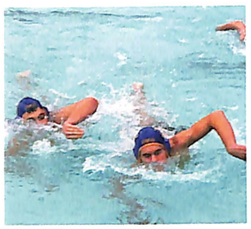
Julie Mallin

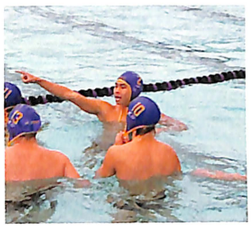
Sophomore Julie Mallin was a very important part of the team and also a very skilled player. She has been playing for four years, a returning player for JV, a leader, and a captain. "Being a sophomore captain I had a lot more to deal with. Whenever there was a problem, most of the girls came to me." This season was really different for her. "I think I had a good season. I personally improved my game," said Julie. This season was fun for her, "My favorite memories were the bus rides home."

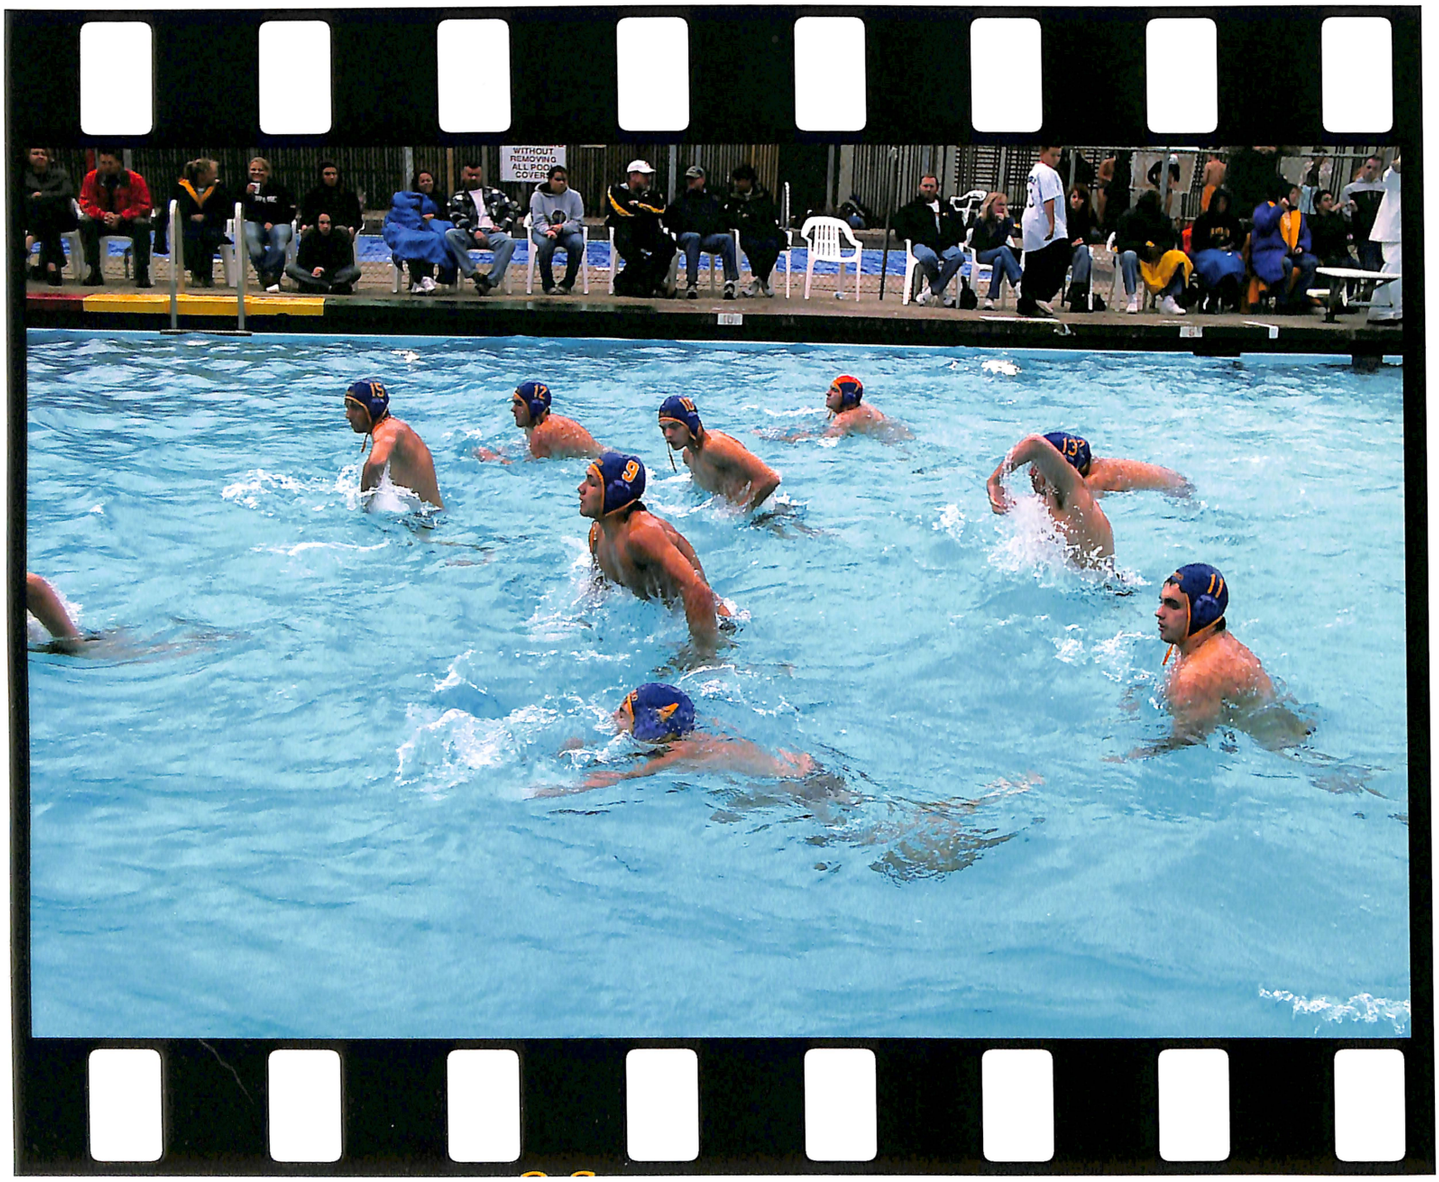












Open Water

Any student watching a boys water polo game could tell these guys meant business. A combination of factors were important to the team's success. Phillip Eddy '07 agrees, "Team bonding is extremely important because not just one person can play water polo." To others, the most important thing was, "shooting, because get you to score," says Jake Roberts '09. With the instruction they took from Coach Hanley, these guys fought, and worked through problems. Andrew Dotson '07 showed this by fighting to gain position, in the field and in the goal. Most of the guys enjoyed playing point or whole set. "I like it because you always have to be thinking," said Ryan Parodi '09.Because the season started in mid-August, Thomas DeVries '09 was most grateful for not having to worry about the basics and getting more practice time. Varisty boys were very happy to going to sections this year, but lost in the first round to Modesto.

[Above] Coach Nick Hanley has coached the team for four years, and also played on it from 1993 to 1996.

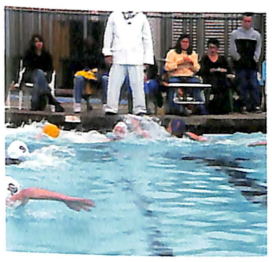
Jimmy Lowe

Jimmy Lowe '06 has been playing water polo all four years of high school. During a game, he thinks "second by second, concentrating on what is happening right at the moment." Lowe is one of the top shooters on the varsity boys team. "The competitiveness and difficulty of the sport is what I enjoy the most about water polo."



Robin Hill

Robin Hill '06 has been active in swimming longer than she has been in water polo, but her love of the game overrides her lack of years of playing. Hill's favorite aspect of the game is the intesity, "I am excited for the game to start and nervous when it does because I want to make sure I don't make any mistakes." Performing well is on the top of her prority list, but it is something she does not need to worry about.

Into the Blue

"Hey!" was the first thing the girls heard on the first day of practice. To the average girl, it's very odd, but to these girls, it meant the world. Many girls had previous experience with swimming or water polo, like Nicole Mills '09 who swam for SASO. Practices started two weeks before school. This made room for friends and bonding parties. "You have to be able to get along with your team, especially in the water. It makes the game more fun if we get along," said Rebecca Brown '08. Any spectator who watched the games could tell the girls loved every minute of it. Allyson Matthews '06 kept the mentality of Dory from Finding Nemo, "Just keep swimming!" While others, such as Mitzie Thompson '08 thought of ways to out smart their players. Although they didn't win as many games as they would have liked, it was the true heart within that mattered.

Gone in 60 Seconds

Those on the cross country team had a high tolerance for pain. At practice, and at meets, they ran miles, proving they were serious about their sport. Some members of the team were so dedicated to running that they ran during their free time, "When I'm not running competitively I run just to keep in shape," said Lauren Davini '09. One thing everyone on the team had to look forward to was the new track. "The new track and field is wonderful! I feel like I'm at a new school when I run on it," exclaimed Alexis Garrett '06. For some members of the cross country team, running was a time to reflect. "Running is my time to think about what's going on in my life. At meets, I think about my pace and beating my previous time," explained Davini.

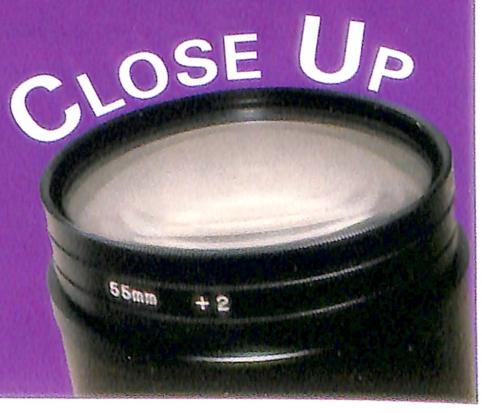
Melisandra Russell

Senior Meli Russell has proven to be a great addition to this year's team, despite her being new. "This is my first year," she said, "I wish I had done it before." She finds the "clarity of mind" you get from running to be the most enjoyable part of it and believes that to be a successful runner you must possess three qualities: determination, endurance, and optimism.



Match Point

With a new girls varsity tennis coach and a few foreign assets, the girls varsity tennis team was bound for victory! As the season progressed the girls were at the top of their game. The team ended their season at a solid number two ranking in the ever-competitive MEL league. Coach Greg Davis modestly said, "The best part of the season was when I heard we made playoffs". And after having yet another winning season, the girls easily earned their spot in the playoffs. Senior Vanessa Reyes, who played number one singles said, "The season was fun, and it was nice to see all our hard work pay off in the end". This was this attitude that propelled the girls do their best in every practice and game. Many of the girls who were not seniors are looking forward to playing again next year, hoping to continue the winning tradition for the girls tennis team.

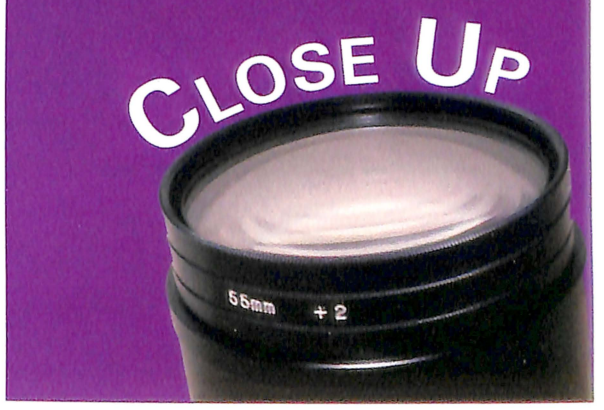
Michelle Lim

After playing for 12 years, Senior Michelle Lim has become an outstanding tennis player, receiving All League two times, placing 3rd in MEL doubles tournament and voted team captain by her peers. She said that "responsibility, communication, and friendliness, makes a good captain."Although she plays singles, she prefers "doubles because I like the net and the court is bigger." She liked this season "because there were a lot of friendships made."



"Big Kicks Armijo"

Though many teams in the MEL strived to have their names listed among Northern California's elite teams, this wasn't the goal of the Armijo Indians. For most, the goal was simply to be ranked among the league's top three teams and have fun doing so. Unfortunately, the varsity soccer team was unable to rank among the league's top three; however, most of the players will tell you this season may have been the most fun yet. "I had a lot of fun juggling and doing our dodgeball drills," says varisty stopper Sean Martin '07. Coach Chavez's metaphors and witty sayings only added to this fun. He was always there to give the team a pre-game pep talk in order to "synergize" and "localize" them for the competition ahead. To top it all off, the varsity soccer team had a brand new turf field to play on. This field only added to their ability to dominate the game. Throughout the season, the players got closer, creating bonds and memories that would last forever.

Rafael Miranda

How does one measure one's skill in soccer? Easy, just watch Rafael Miranda '07. Rafa has been playing for "like 11 years". What he likes most about soccer is "scoring goals, and hearing the sweet sound of the ball swishing the back of the net as it goes past the defenseless goalie". Growing up, he was inspired by Ranaldo "because he's Brasilian", but his favorite players are "Mike Young and Wes Davini because they're two great guys".

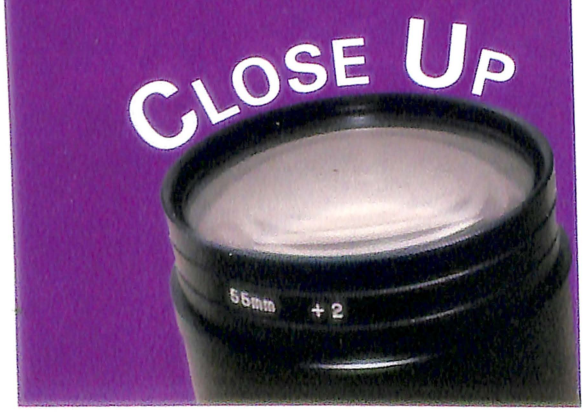
Dominique Webster

After playing soccer for seven years, Dominique (Dom) Webster, a sophomore, has technique and skill that allows him to control the field which makes him an irreplacable asset. After speaking with Dom, he said "I put the 'Dom' in Dominate!!!" Although his favorite player is Freddy Adu, his greatest inspiration is his mother, who is always cheering on the side lines.

[Above] The junior varsity boys soccer team frolics and plays before a game. Staying relaxed and having fun helped the team to succeed throughout the season.

[Right] Blake Zopfi '09 flashes his captain armband. "It was really fun being a team leader" said Blake.

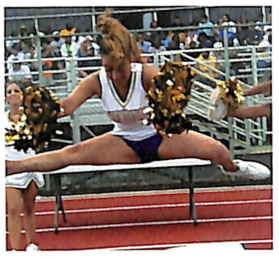


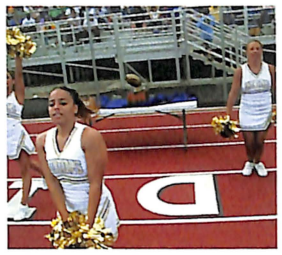
Kicking and Screaming

Another level of dedication was necessary for those who wanted to play on the Junior Varsity soccer team. Tryouts began in the mid-September, even before summer ended, and practice soon followed. With the soccer season approaching, the team had to be conditioned for the competition ahead. Always overshadowed by Varsity, the Junior Varsity team overcame obstacles by continuing the trend of improving from last season. "Despite the fact that the line-up changed every week, I think the team did a great job of overcoming this obsticle and finishing out with a 500 season. This is exactly what a coach looks to achieve," said junior varsity coach Brad Burzynski. The junior varsity soccer team managed to finish out the season by increasing their amount of wins from last year. "We did really well, and worked as a team," said sophomore Eric Brucia.

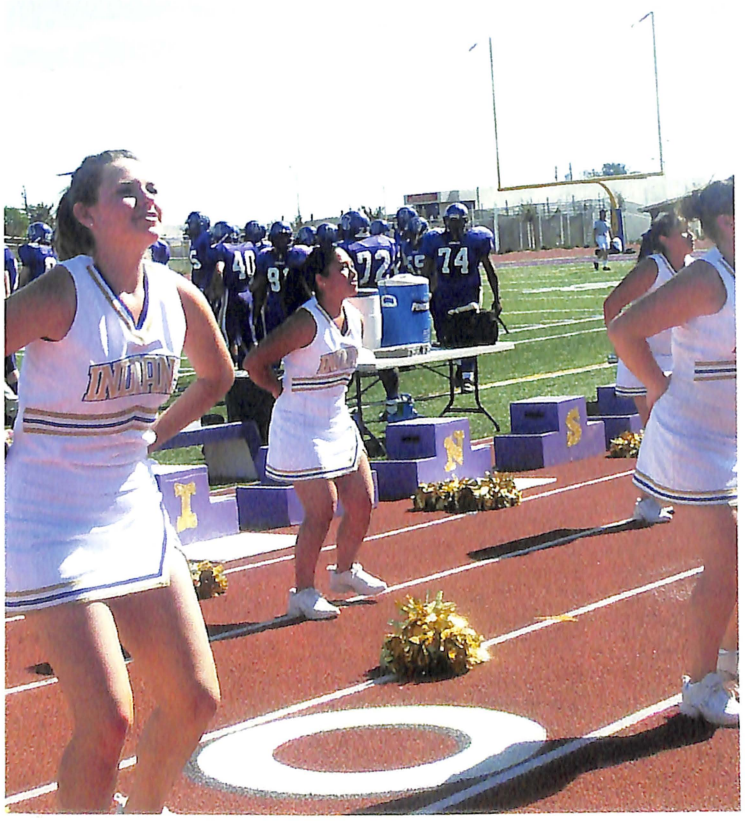
Gotta Kick it UP

"Go! Fight! Win!" was what the crowd heard from the cheerleaders on game nights. Waking up early on summer mornings showed how dedicated the cheerleaders were, "I looked forward to going to practice every morning, even though it was really early, I still wanted to go," said Senior Jennifer James who had been cheerleading for eight years. Endless hours of practicing after school perfected the squads routines and helped form many new friendships. "I love to perform in front of people so I really love cheering at the games," said Junior Rachel Munson. After a long, fun, and exciting season, the squad members said their goodbyes with memories of all the good times they had with each other.





[Bottom]: The Varsity cheerleaders perform during halftime at the Fairfield/Armijo game, "Halftime is not as bad as I thought it would be; I love it," said Senior Vanessa Monroy about cheering in front of big crowds.



[Top] Captain Alexis Kofoed and Co-Captain Kristina Elder decide on what cheer the squad should practice.

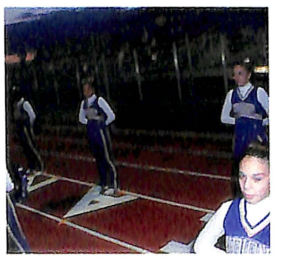
Allison Fernandez

Senior Allison Fernandez was a great cheerleader this year. "Its always been my passion to dance and perform so I love cheering in front of big crowds at halftime." Practicing for hours after school helped Allison perfect her routines and learn new moves. When the season came to an end, Allison was happy that she had been a cheerleader. "I'll miss everything about cheering including camp, games, halftime and my squad.

Bring it on

The cheering and applause that came from the crowd wasn't completely attributed to the players on the field, but also to the cheerleaders on the sidelines. "I like having a reason to be loud and the responsibility of being on the squad. I just like being a cheerleader and the feeling of it," said sophomore Alyssa Burns about cheerleading. As the cheerleaders cheered on the team, they also pumped up the crowd with their smiles and chants like "clap your hands, show your spirit in the stands!" Sophomore Adrianna Gonzales said "I love pumping up the crowd. I live for it!" After many hours of practices and cheers, the J.V. squad ended their season with smiles on their faces and cheers that will ring in our ears forever.



[Bottom] The cheerleaders pump up the crowd to cheer on their team as they finish their routine. " I love cheerleading because it's a great workout and I enjoy dancing," said Erica Dellenbach '09.

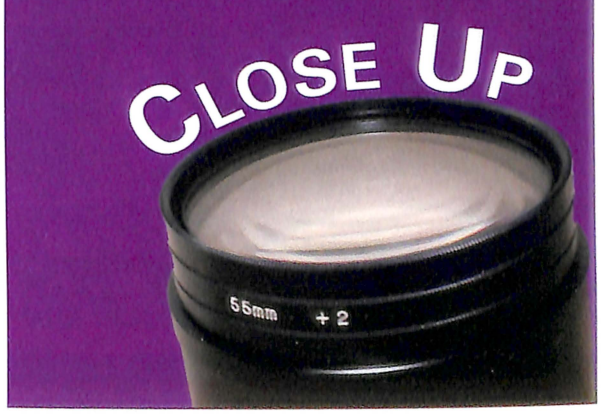
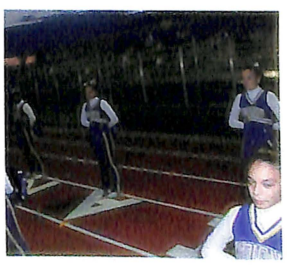
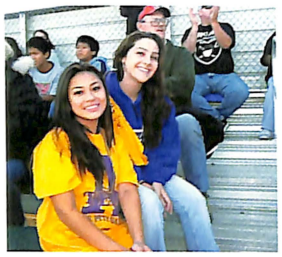
[Left] "We have our problems, but we all get along, I love my squad members," said Sophomore Alyssa Burns.

Courtney Flynn

"Hardworking" is how Sophomore Courtney Flynn describes her squad. Cheerleading for two years, Courtney enjoys dancing during halftime the most. She enjoys having the spotlight taken from the football players and placed upon herself. Courtney is determined to practice her routines until they are perfected. When the season ended, Courtney clamied, "I'm going to miss the exciting games. They were so much fun to cheer at!"





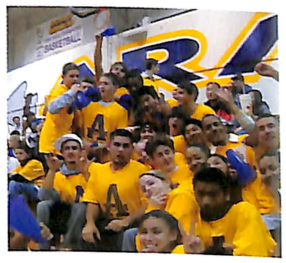


Fans!

Weither they were teachers or students, parents or realtives, friends or siblings, there was always fans to watch athletes preform at their games. "It's always nice to have people who you know in the stands cheering you on," Robert Brown 07, who was on the football team said. "It makes you feel good that they are there for you and it makes you want to try harder and play better."

But the football games werent the only place you could catch people yelling and screaming for their favorite players. Basketball games were another favorite spot for groups like the A-Team. "It's cool to see that big sea of yellow up in the stands," Aaron Trigg 06 said. "It's cool that all those people are there just to watch you and your team play."

In the end it didnt matter if they won or lost, all that mattered was that there was people there to help boost up the moral of all the teams.



The JV Football team got into the crowd and helped represent and cheer on the Varsity Football team.

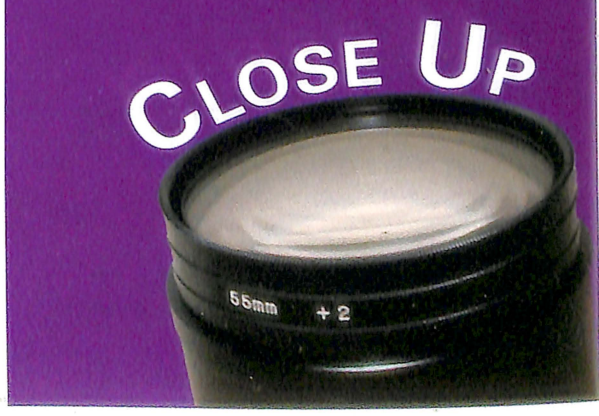
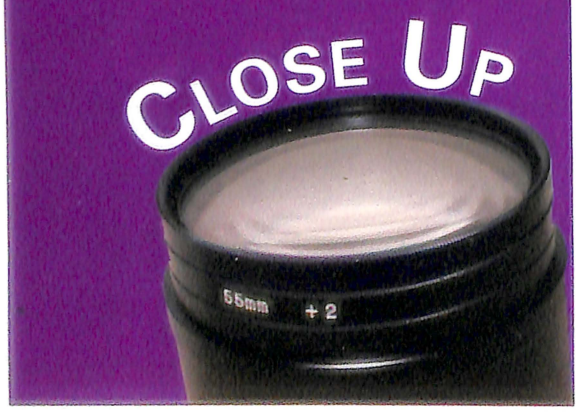
Mrs. Chiodo

Mrs. Chiodo has been the parent volunteer coordinator for seven years now. Year after year she organizes activities for the students to make their high school days funner and more eventful. Besides making sure that the students have a good time, she is also a dedicated fan. "I like going to games and watching the students have fun with their friends," Chiodo said. "It makes me happy to see them have fun."



Marcell Hayles

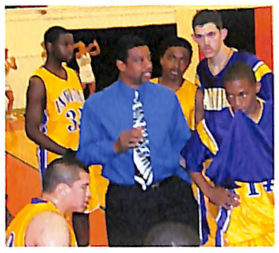
Playing Basketball since he was three years old, Senior Marcell Hayles always knew that he would play on his high school team. Marcell relaxes, listens to music, and watches Kobe Byant highlights to prepare for a game. He felt that his teammates were very good and thought that since the team was back-to-back champs, there was pressure on the team because opposing teams wanted their heads. When the season came to an end, Marcell was satisfied with his team and the season and said that the thing he will miss the most about playing high school ball is that he won't ever be able experience it again.

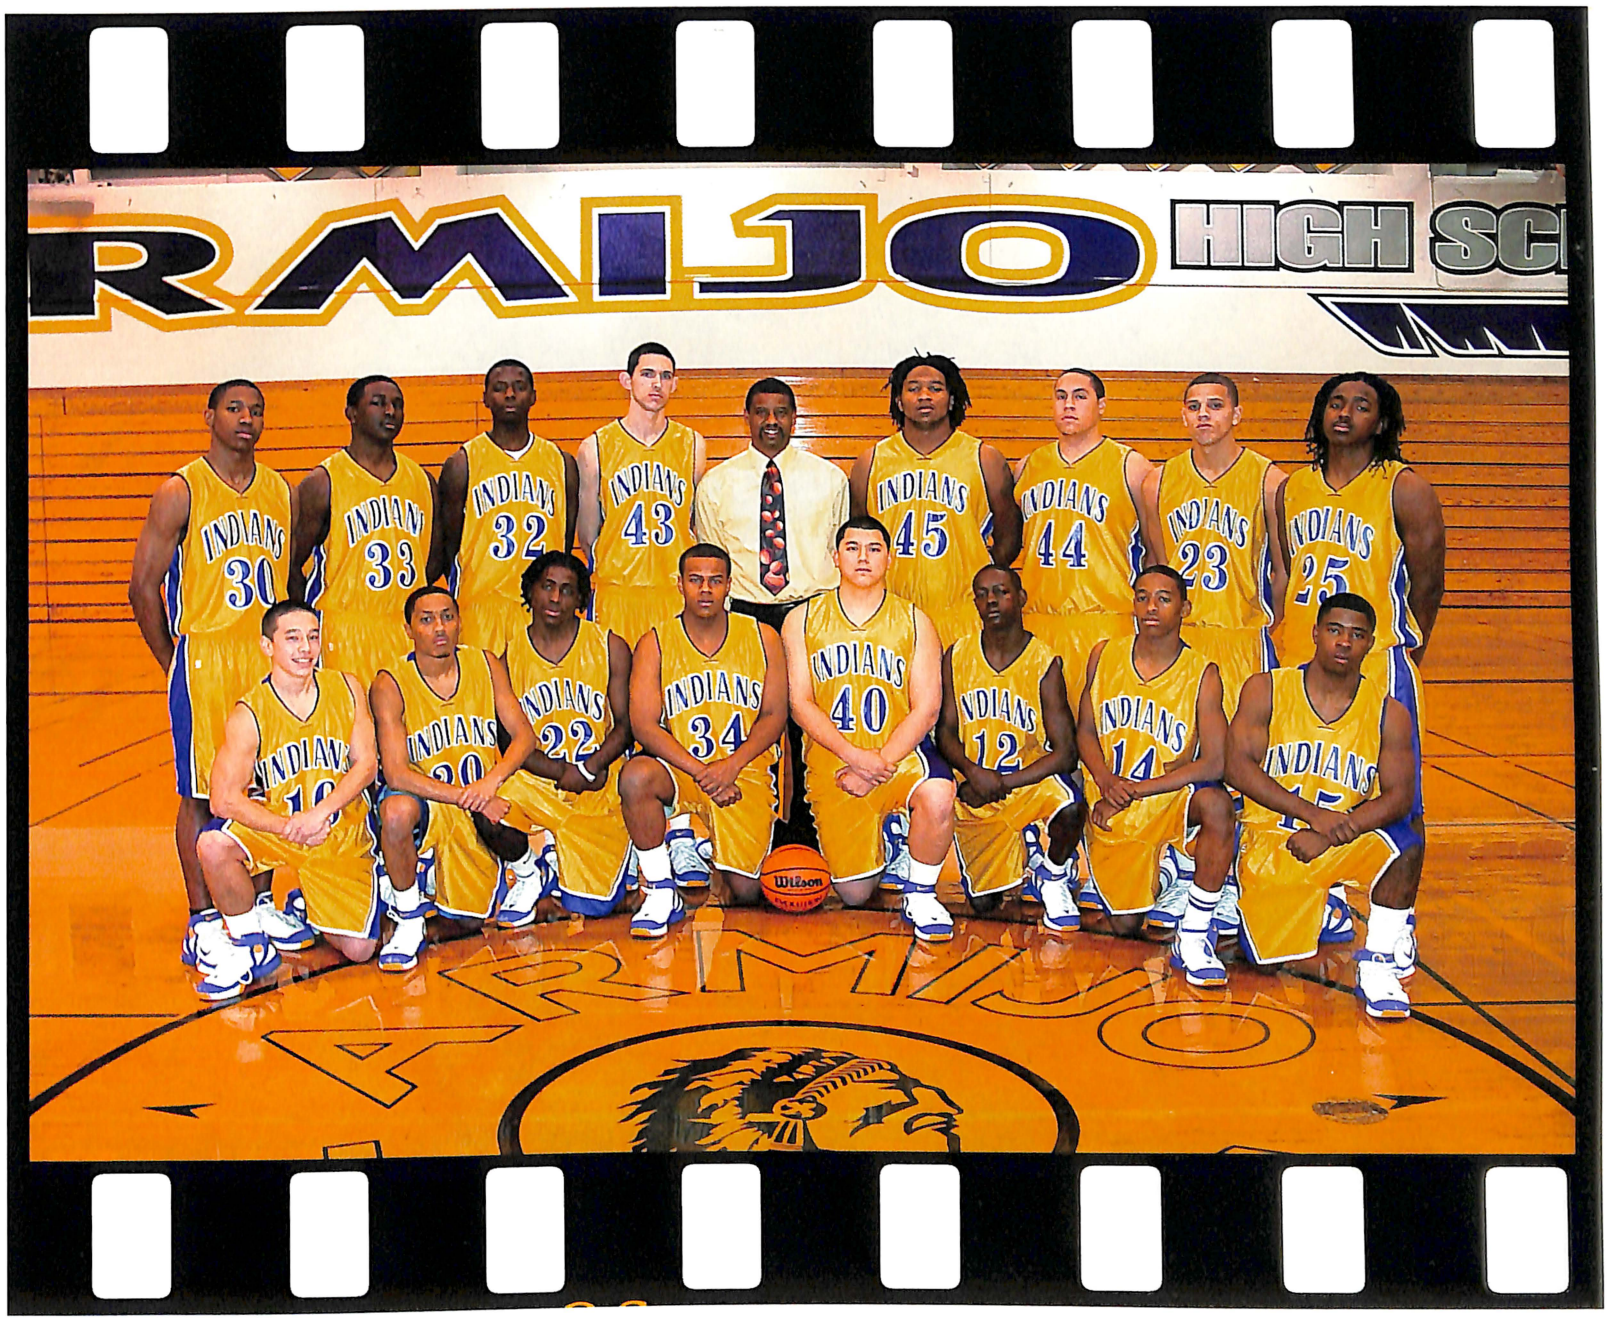


[Below] Senior Aaron Trigg penetrates the opposing team's defense as he moves the ball down the court. When asked what he would miss most when the season was over, Aaron answered, "Just the whole high school basketball experience and playing for my dad."

[Above] Dominique Patterson '06 looks down the court to find an open teammate. "Go undefeated in league, get to Arco and win, and I want to get all-league, are my goals."

[Right] Senior Kyle Jackson lets the Rodriguez team know that they cannot enter the swamp.





He Got Game

From basketball practice to free-throw shots, the boys on the team stood by each other and helped each other out. "I feel that we have a very good team, and I think we are going to make it back to Arco because we are a team that looks up to one another," described Deontae Banks '07 of his team. As the season began with a new coach, the boys didn't feel that there was a big difference between Coach Trigg and former coach, Coach Dahl, "It doesn't affect us that much because Coach Trigg and Coach Dahl have similarities, plus many of us have played for Coach Trigg before so we know what he expects," said Jared Richard '07. As the last buzzer rang at the last game, the boys knew that the season was over and that they would miss the excitement of the games, their fans, but mostly, playing with one another.

Above the Rim

With an average height of six feet, the JV team towered above their opponents. Along with their great height, and great talent, came their fantastic fashion sense, matching in purple and gold from head to toe. As for room for improvement, Hitu Pal '08 replied, "We don't need it. We already have a solid team and our chemistry on the floor is pretty good." Greg Mills '08 recalled his favorite moment from an unforgettable game against Fairfield, "Looking at all the faces of Fairfield players when Gathan Hayles '08 made the game winning three-pointer with only three seconds left in the game." If the JV team continues to keep up their grades and perfect their skills, they will remain above the rim.

David Marin

This year, as a core team player, David Marin '08, has used his effort and skill to add to the team's sucess. Even though he's been playing basketball for eight years, he admits, "the most challenging thing about basketball is learning all the plays." His inspiration to play came from his brother. "My older brother inspired me to play because he would talk about Michael Jordan and Dominique Wilkins." When asked if the team could be improved he explained, "No, our team is solid. We got four new key players this year." David believes he and the rest of the JV team can be the J.V. M.E.L. Champions!

Love and Basketball

There was a great love for basketball felt by the girls on the varsity team this year. Playing with and against their friends was one of the best things. Darlice Gill '07 said, "During pre-season was the best because I got to play against one of my best friends!" As a pre-game ritual, the girls would go around and state their goals. The most common goal of their team was, "Rebound and Defense!" The majority of the players had been playing basketball for at least four years. The funniest moments of the season were always during practices because a lot of the girls fell during drills. The hardest thing about being on the team was learning and remembering the plays. The best part of playing basketball was, "The rush and excitement of being on the court and scoring!" said Hayley Kendall '06.

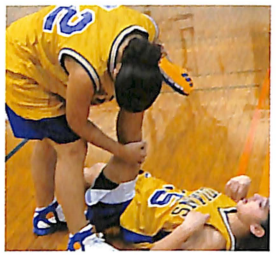
Jessica Moore

"My favorite part about being on the basketball team is playing with all my friends. We're like a family." Said Jessica Moore '06 about playing on the varsity girls team this year. She has been inspired and devoted to playing since second grade by of her brothers. Although she admits their team has a lot to improve on, she explains they are working on it. "I wouldn't say this year is better than last, but it's a lot more fun!"



Hoop Dreams

JV girls basketball started with a rough start this season. "This season was kind of bumpy but we managed to get better because we are all really good and we all have the talent, but we just have to bring it together," said Rachel Mitchell '08. The team had to learn to play together and get use to everyone's individual skills. Every player brought something to the team and each had their own goals they wanted to reach. Destiny Garcia '09 said, "My goals are to be able to work harder and to get along with my teammates." As the season progressed they became a stronger team. "It was hard at first to get along with everyone," said Natasha McCall '08. Carmen Cisneros '09 said, "If I could change anything about the team it would be some of the attitudes." Breanne Shishido '09 agreed and added, "This game is so much fun and I enjoy every second of it."

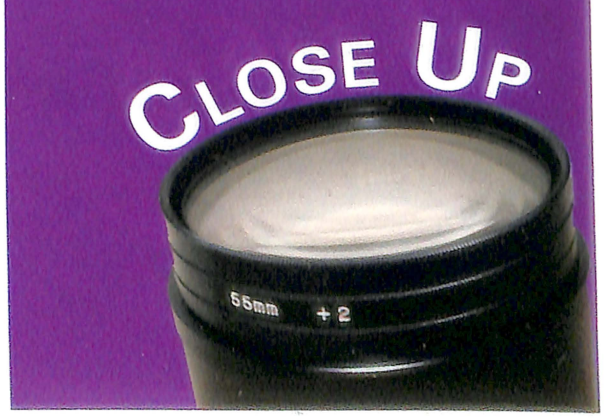
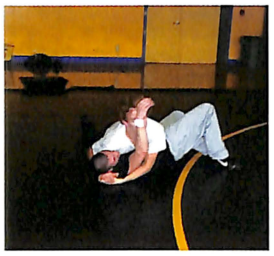
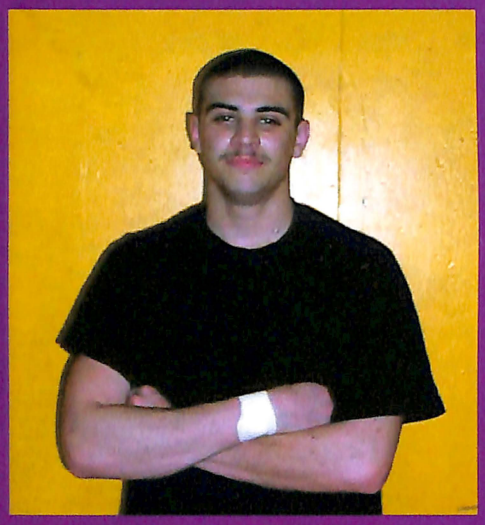
Courtney Akina

As a Sophomore, Courtney Akina was a starter, a captain, and a big help to the team. Courtney has been playing for five years now and plays the sport because, "I want to stay in shape, and I've been playing for so long, so why stop?" She continued, "What I want to get out of playing is to become a better player, and a better team leader." What she takes from the team is "responsibility." Courtney loves the game and said she will continue to play throughout high school.







Kevin Moraida

Kevin Moraida is one of the few Senior wrestlers on the team this year. He has been part of the team for two years now, and loves every minute of it. "It's fun to throw Freshmen around," says Moraida. He says wrestling is a great way to make friends, and "get closer" to his fellow teammates. Moraida likes wrestling because it keeps him in shape year round. His advice to any new wrestlers is " Stay off your back, and don't skip practices."

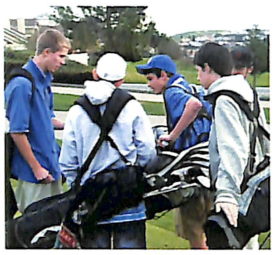
Take it to the Mat

When one thinks of wrestling, they think of fancy acrobats in a ring with body slams, theme songs, and weapons. One of the more unknown sports at school takes place during the winter season. While most people are watching basketball games, these students are active in the strenuous sport of wrestling. Cram-packed full of half nelsons, full nelsons, and high crotches, these athletes enjoyed traveling to different high schools to participate tournaments. Putting wrestlers in different weight classes gave the wrestlers more of a chance to add points up for the team. James Lowe '06 is going to miss the sport, "It was an unforgettable experience, and I am glad I was a part of this team." Lowe has been wrestling for four years, and was captain this year.



Hole In One!

Golf tends to be overlooked when people think of school sports, or sports in general. Yet, few know the level of dedication it takes, both physically and psychologically, to play the sport. Golf takes a level of control that few are able to achieve. The slightest movement can make or break your entire game. This year, our golf team was ready for the challenge. Though the team was relatively young, their age had nothing to do with their skill or dedication to the sport. "Golf is a sport that really tests every aspect of the player," said Freshman Matt Zecchini. "There have definitely been some changes made to the team," said assistant coach, Brad Burzynski, who coached the team last year. He followed up by saying, "We hope to establish depth to the team this year and create a team where the number-six player is just as good as number-one. We hope to utilize the entire team, instead of depending on two players."

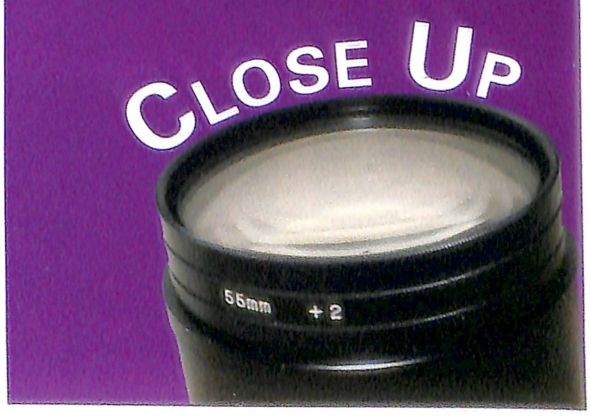
Victor Simionas

Dedication to a sport is practicing six days a week until it gets so dark and you can no longer see what you're doing. Dedicated is exactly what Junior Victor Simionas is to the sport of golf. He has been playing for the past six years of his life and has a firm hold on the number-one position on our golf team. In one round, Victor almost managed to beat the course record at Rancho Solano, missing it by only one stroke. So don't be surprised if you see this man playing on the P.G.A. Tour, and winning.



Road to the World Cup

Everyone agrees that one of the most important reasons why we play a sport is because it is fun! The Girls Varsity soccer team wasn't all about having fun though, they also had the dedication and determination to end their season on a high note. In the past, the soccer program has thrived and has been highly successful, ending their seasons no lower than third place. This year, the team was very diverse when it came to the players' skills and grade levels. Some of the athletes had been playing soccer for almost 11 years, and others like Senior Bela Paraguay, played soccer for the first time this year. Junior Andy Garcia enjoyed the sport most because, "the best thing about playing soccer is meeting new people and just playing the sport you love". Coach Pete Zopfi was very excited when the season started and said, "This is the best team I've coached at Armijo".

Giana Raccanello

After playing soccer for 11 years, Senior Giana Raccanello has become skilled at the sport she loves the most. This season she was chosen as team captain and played as a defensive sweeper. You can find this Italian texting on her Sidekick throughout the day, and "Kick'n it" with the cool girls on the weekend. After highschool she plans to play club soccer and maybe join the team at Sonoma State where she will be attending college.

Soccer Savvy

JV girls soccer started out very successful this year. The season brought out most girls to conditioning, as well as tryouts. "This season is going good so far, a little rocky, but we're doing okay," said Arielle De Leon '09. The season also brought many new faces. "My teammates are great, we all get along really well and they're hilarious," said Olivia Bernal '08. All the girls played the sport for a different reason, but it was usually because they loved it. Lauren Davini '09 commented, "My favorite thing about playing, is simply playing." While freshmen Andrea Nielson said, "My favorite thing is scoring and making nice plays." All the girls took something from this year with them so they could grow and learn to play at the Varsity level. "What I have learned from playing JV soccer is persistence, never give up, teamwork, and responsibility," said Courtney Flynn '08.

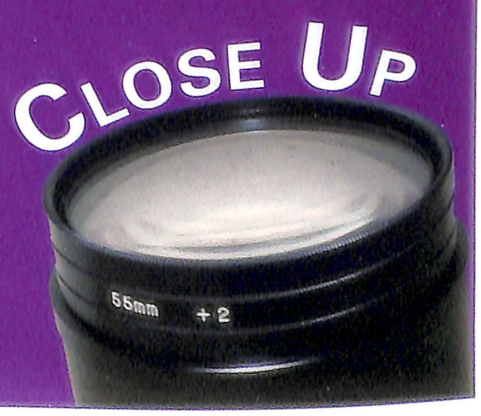
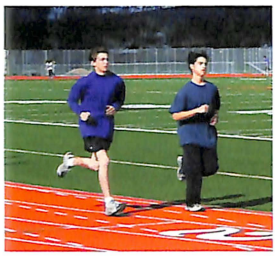
Caitlin Judson

Caitlin, a Sophomore, has been playing soccer for seven years. She learns new things about the game every time she plays. "I want to become a better player." Not only does she play soccer for the school, she also plays on a competitive team for the city. In her spare time you can see Caitlin hanging out with friends and having fun. "What I have learned is teamwork and leadership skills, from playing soccer."





Mike Leite

Some people think running is a chore, but that's not the case for Senior Mike Leite. "My favorite part of the meet is racing because that's what it's all about." His inspiration to join the track team came from his brother James and his coaches, but he also joined the team to get faster. Although he admits, "the worst part about the meets is losing, and the best part is missing sixth period." He also recalls "the funniest memory was watching a runner from the opposite team fall."

Track and Field

The 2005-2006 Track and Field team was a great success. With Mrs. Philyaw-Garrison as the head coach, they worked and trained hard at practices. They worked as a team to do well at team meets. The best thing about being a part of the team was being able to compete. The members of the team made sure that they conditioned well so that they wouldn't hurt themselves. The team usually did an "Armijo Pride" cheer before a meet to boost their confidence and show their school spirit. One of the funniest memories was at practice when one of the runners tripped on a shoelace, which taught the whole team a lesson. This year included a lot of hard work and a lot of new learning experiences, but in the end it was all worth it because of the fun and memories.

Wimbledon

To most people, the tennis courts were for the physical education classes, but to these guys, it was their second home. The boys tennis team loved to goof off, as well as practice hard, and win matches. Half the team played doubles, and the other half played singles. James Jenkins' '07 favorite tennis move was his "super backhand supreme, because [he] can do it well and smash [his] opponent , literally." There were three tennis captains this year: Jenkins, Sean Martin '07, and Wayne Saephan '06, all of whom had excellent abilities. Saephan's doubles partner, Islam Ahmad, '06 liked the atmosphere of the tennis team, "It teaches you patience and how to be calm. The whole team spirit is great." Junior Mike Young commented, "I'm super cool 'cause I can hit the ball over the net and win matches, sometimes."

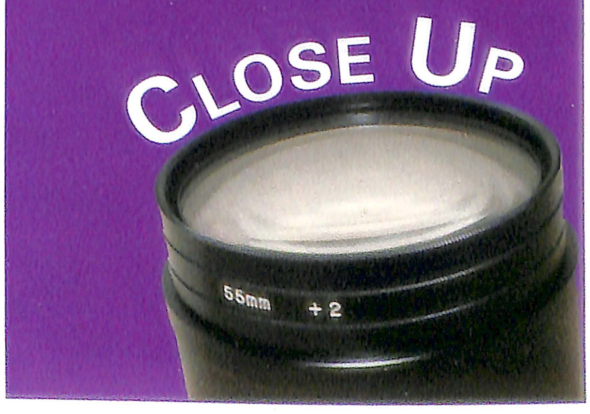
Taylor Elze

Senior Taylor Elze has been involved with tennis for three years, played baseball freshman year, and played soccer for all four years. He plays singles in tennis, but prefers to play doubles. The famous Pete Samprass is his favorite athlete, and he looks up to him as an idol. Taylor says, "I love the team atmosphere, it's awesome because we can have fun while we get a great work out." Elze does not plan to play soccer or tennis in college.



In too Deep

Swimming was something to do in the summer when it is hot out and you needed to cool off. However, this big group of student athletes enjoyed swimming year round, even in the coldest of conditions. Most of the swimmers swam all four strokes: butterfly, backstroke, breaststroke, and freestyle. However, some preferred their "specialty," or a different stroke than freestyle, while others swam freestyle and loved it. Some swimmers, like Kyle Keele '07, swam to better their water polo skills. At practice, if you mentioned the name Michael Phelps to any of the swimmers, they knew about him. He was an inspiration to the team, and as John Chan '06 said, "He is my hero both in swimming and everything else." Few swimmers on the team had ever swam competitively; for most, this was their first time swimming and they did exceptionally well.

Glenn Lovell

Senior Glenn Lovell has been swimming for all four years of high school. He loves it because "it's healthy and introduces you to a new environment." Lovell likes freestyle, because of its direct and fast approach. When Lovell swims the breast stroke, he feels as if he were flying. His favorite athlete is Michael Phelps, because he is one of the best swimmers in the world. Lovell also plays water polo. His words of wisdom to any new swimmer are "keep working and trying, and bring anti-fog for your goggles!"

Bye Bye Birdie

Walking into the gym you would think that the only sport that is played here is basketball, but that is where you are mistaken. During spring, the gym is occupied by the badminton team. Playing badminton since her freshmen year, Sophomore Karina Padilla said she enjoys playing badminton because "it's fun and really easy to play; it's only a competitive sport if you make it competitive, but it's a lot of fun when you're messing around with your friends." Whether the team played singles or doubles, they were always there for each other and had fun together. "This team is a good team, everyone helps each other out. Everyone is a team player," is how Senior See Moua described her teammates. As the season came to an end, the girls shared their final memories and said their goodbyes for the season. When asked what she will miss most when the season is over, Junior Patdy Saechao said "I will miss all the players on the tea. We came together so close for badminton."

Jennifer Catalan

Playing badminton since her Junior year, Jennifer Catalan's goals for the season were "to get better because I suck." Jennifer showed up to practice everyday after school and enjoyed smashing the birdie and bothering her lovely coach Trigg. 'At the start of each practice or game I stretch, giggle, warm-up, then giggle again,' said Jennifer regarding what got her motivated for the game. As the season came to an end, Jennifer described her team as 'Sexy Winners' and said that she will miss Melancholy, Punia, Misty Rain, and Senda Baby the most.

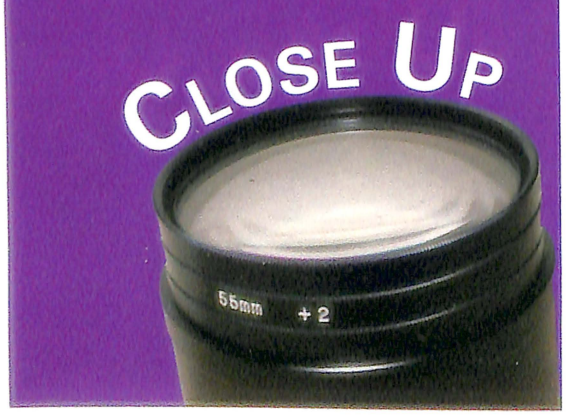
Mike Torrence

Mike '07 has been playing baseball since he was five years old. He was inspired by his father, who played his whole life. The thing he loves the most about baseball is how everybody contributes to the team. The most challenging thing about being on the baseball team was keeping up with the other member's great talent and skills. Mike will continue to strive to be as good as his favorite baseball player, "Barry Bonds, the best hitter to ever play the game."



[Above] Sophomore Graham Oyoung gets ready to swing his bat. "Concentration is probably the most important aspect of hitting," said Oyoung.

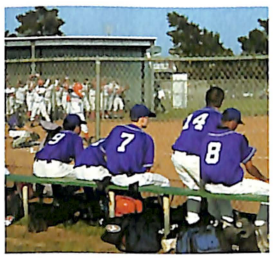
Take Me out To the Ballgame

The sun's out, peanut shells and sunflower seeds scattered across the bleachers, and parents cheering for their sons. These are signs that the baseball season has started once again. Each grade was represented on the Varsity team this year. From Freshmen to Seniors, teamwork was not an issue for the players. Jared Richards '07 said, "I just love playing the game." The teams talent came from years of playing beginning when they were little boys. "I've been playing baseball for as long as I can remember," said Nick Anzalone '07. Everyone had high hopes for the team. "This is a building year for all of us and we have a lot of young players," continued Anzalone. Ethan Gibbons '08 said "the most challenging and rewarding thing about playing baseball is hitting a home-run." No matter what way you look at it, these boys kept us coming out to the ballgame.

A League of Their Own

The JV Baseball team showed much potential this year with a field full of new faces. They played the game just as hard as Varsity with the passion to win it in their play. Staush Zamoyta '09 said, "I think our team will do great this year because we've got speed on the bases." But as hard as they played on the field, they certainly had a lot of fun too. Ryan Olson '09 said the best thing about playing is "the girls". Like most baseball players, the majority of the team had a favorite sunflower seed flavor. A majority of the team stated that "Ranch sunflower seeds are the best." All in all, as they strived to master their skills, the future seemed to be very bright for them, since most have been playing "since T-Ball" like Blake Zopfi '09.



[Team Roster] A.Boutorwick, D. McCampbell, R. Olson, D. Pearson, V. Romero, A. Spiller, S. Zamoyta, B. Zopfi, S. Brown, M. Hendrix, N. McBrien, J. Mossholder, J. Pech, A. Rincon, D. Williamson, R. Smith, J. Burns.

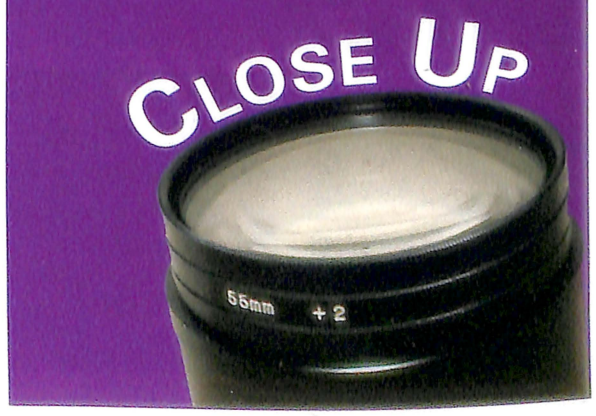
David Pearson

David Pearson, a freshman, was on the JV Baseball team. He had been playing baseball for almost his whole life. His favorite position in the game is pitcher because he can control the game. He loved baseball because it required "skill and a mental aspect." David's favorite sunflower seed is Ranch flavor, which he ate during all the games. He was glad to be a part of the team because he says, "I think we will do great and I'm glad to be here!"



Swinging for the Fence

The Varsity softball team was very young in age, but that didn't have any effect on the outcome of their season. For the first time in recent years, there were three Freshmen on the Varsity team. Erica McIntyre said, "The Freshmen that we have are some of the most talented I've seen in a long time." Even though they were young, they had a few returning leaders playing, Seniors Lindsey Williams and Erica McIntrye and Junior Alana Aweau. All three were returning MEL All League selections. Freshman Kasey Tydingco said, "the Seniors are real leaders and they are what holds the team together." One of their goals this year was to contend in the MEL running and maybe in the playoffs. They feel that this is their year and they will be swinging for the fence!!

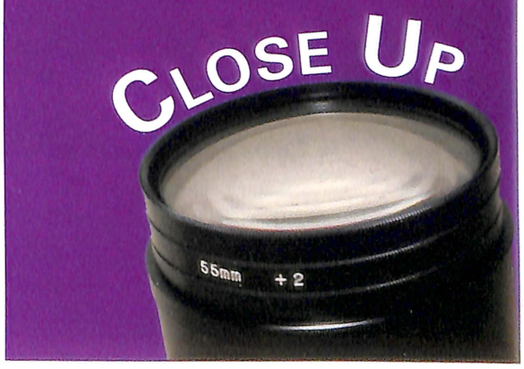
[Team Roster] J. Curtis, K. Hamby, A. Matthews, E. McIntyre, V. Oquendo, L. Williams, A. Aweau, D. Deal, C. Engell, E. Henderson, S. Kirker, J. Mallin, K. Welsh, K. Brenner, K. Herriera, K. Tydingco

[Above] Kim Periera '09 is in her ready stance so she can prepare to catch the ball

[Left] Erica Mcintyre '06 and Alana Aweau '07 both run for the ball. "I love playing softball," said Aweau.

Erica McIntyre

Erica McIntyre has been playing softball for 13 years. When asked why she plays softball, she answered, "I love the game...It's what I do." Erica's favorite thing about playing softball is the fast pace of the game and diving. Her favorite postion on the field is catcher. Her favorite NCAA softball team is UCLA because she got a hit off Jelly (their pitcher). She believes that the hardest pitch to hit is the rise ball, because she is a low ball hitter.



Angels in the Outfield

No matter the conditions, the junior varsity softball team was willing to practice. They worked and trained hard almost every day. A majority of the girls were new to the sport, but with the help of the coaches, they learned so many new things and became more and more successful each day. Even though they worked really hard everyday, they still had a lot of fun. The worst thing about practices was "running to China," one of the team's many warm-ups. But when game time finally came around, all of their hard work and time paid off. "Playing in games is the best part," said Angelica Gales '08. Though many of the players were new comers, they were able to come together as a team, and create a bond that will last forever.

[Softball] S. Lopez, A. Holton, A. Jackson, A. Gales, T. Stanford, M. Garcia, B. McGee, W. Sanchez, M. Ibaria, J. Woods, R. Ibarra, S. Gloria, E. Robinson, F. Holden, Y. Untalan, S. Smart

Stefanie Smart

Freshman Stefanie Smart joined soft ball because "it's fun, relaxing, and competitive and plus, my family is real big on Baseball". She has been playing for four years now and also plays tournaments out side of Armijo softball. Her position is first basemen. Aside from softball, her many hobbies include reading and hanging out with friends on the weekend. She plans on playing softball for Armijo for her 3 remaining years.

Behind the Scenes

played a pivotal role in the makeup of the campus. From behind the scenes to promote community service & leadership.

Leadership

With past experience, Mr. Brad Burzynski, the Activities Director, ran our leadership group with ease. With the help of our new ASB President, Nishi Trewn '06, the attendance of the class, the organization, and the spirit of leadership improved as the year progressed. The main objective of leadership was for students to learn about communication, personal and social responsibilities, and for them to be involved in the community by serving community service hours. Leadership held all of our homecoming events, our powderpuff games and our Wednesday night jams. Throughout the year, each individual class held their own fundraisers at certain restaurants or by selling candy. Meetings were held zero period on Mondays, Tuesdays, Wednesdays, and Fridays.

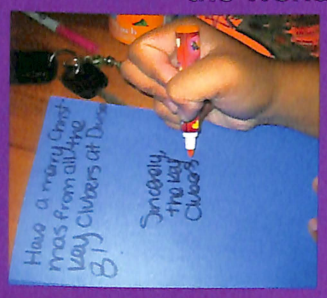
Key Club

"Caring - Our Way Of Life" was the motto Key Club stands for. Its primary purpose was to give back to the community and various parts of the world through service. Students from grades nine to twelve work together to serve their "home, school, and community." Though its title may be a bit ambiguous, it calls its distinction through the hard work and services that it promotes. The club does several community involved projects throughout the year such as Relay for Life, nursing home visits, Trick-Or-Treating for cans, and crab feeds. In general, Key Club was a large community service organization that found its way in many high schools around the country. It demonstrated spirit as well as leadership, dedication, friendship, and service. "I had a lot of fun participating in Key Club events and it has become one of my favorite things in my high school years," said Van Nguyen '07.



[Right] Fall Rally North is one of the most attended and awaited events of the year. Every year, this event is held at Six Flags Marine World for all the divisions from Northern California to attend. Its purpose is to raise money for charities such as Pediatric Trauma Prevention (PTP) or Pediatric Emergency Medicine (PEM) by auctioning each division's Lieutenant Governor (LTG). At the occasion, each division competes in a Spirit Rally where they shout their best cheers as loud as they can. The two divisions with the most spirit battle 2 on 2 in a face off. This year, Division 8, which includes members from Armijo, as well as other key clubbers from Fairfield, Cordelia, American Canyon, Vacaville, Napa, and Benicia, took 1st place in the Spirit War for the first time in 5 years. Division 8 also raised over $800 for the charities as well. "It was nice to see the division come together and finally beat division 27 after years of trying," stated Trinh Tran '07.

Band and Drum Line

Advisors, Ms. Jacob and Mr. E. took on 112 students to create a band and drum line worth remembering. They provided students a positive form of expression, taught life skills through music, and shaped productive members in society. Mr. E. commented, "It takes all types and all sizes to make anything successful, and I believe these kids are successful in everything they do, especially when it comes to Drum Line."

Heather Dominguez-Cuevas '06, Shalohn Mixon '06, Danielle Renville '06, and Alyssa Pinger '07 contributed their time and experience by having leadership roles in this club. They led the students in competitions around the state, such as the Winter Concert and the competition at Deloro High School. "The old days of the Armijo Superband are back, we went from bottom four to top four in Northern California in less than a year," boasted Ms. Jacobs, "This program is growing."

Pageantry and Winterguard

Pageantry provided students with the opportunity to practice and perform award-winning organization, while expressing themselves through dance and choreography. After countless hours of practice and hard work, they entered many competitions and marched in many parades throughout the year.

Our school's pageantry was described as a championship group that consistently placed in the top of their division at all competitions. With Mr. Mills as their advisor, captains Shalohn Mixon '06, Briana Washington '07, Alyssa Pinger '07, and Samantha Martinez '07, worked hard to perfect their moves and present a routine worth viewing.

"I'm very proud of all the progress they made and how much they have developed as performers over the year," said Mr. Mills, "They never cease to amaze me."

Literary Society

Every Monday in F6 and Thursday in E6 students met together after school to express their creativity, ideas, and imagination on paper. Members helped each other improve their writing skills by providing constructive criticism and positive feedback. "I get a lot out of being in Literary Society because I receive a wide variety of criticism which improves my writing skills," said Greg Bennett '07.

Academic Decathlon

Academic Decathlon focused on studying 10 different subjects to prepare for competitions. Students competed against other schools with multiple choice tests, interviews, and essays. "I was told by a friend that it was fun and that we had the chance to get a lot of medals. Even though it's a lot of work, it pays off in the end," stated Senior Vanessa Reyes.

Chess

Seniors Micah Cruz and Wayne Saephan's strategy was a key component to playing chess.

Every day at lunch students gathered in Mr. Nichols' room (A8) to eat, socialize and enjoy a good game of chess. They held an annual tournament during lunch, which was followed by a tournament against the Fairfield High chess club. All of the students had fun competing against rival, Fairfield High.

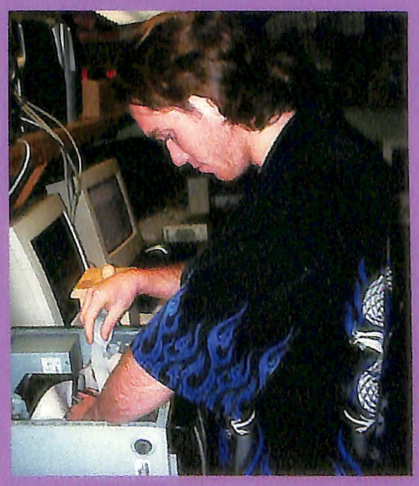
Members of the VICA (Vocational Industrial Club of America) met on Fridays to talk about how much money they needed to buy various computer parts. Teachers and other faculty members even brought their broken electronic devices to VICA for them to fix. Aside from helping faculty, they learned valuable information about computers to help them in the real world.



Senior T.J. Boyd works on a computer tower that needs to be fixed for a teacher.

Nishi Trewn '06, President, and Lewis Chan '06, Vice President, conduct the meetings. Michelle Pambid '07 said, "I really enjoy being in the club. It's cool to get to know the foreign exchange students and learn about their lives back home."

AFS

American Field Service was a club based around foreign exchange students. The members of AFS tried as best as possible to get foreign exchange students involved in all sorts of activities. These activities included Holidays Around the World, bike trips to San Francisco, and adventures in Monterey Bay. The goal was to involve students and to learn about different cultures, religions and ethnicities. They not only wanted to educate themselves, but other students as well.

Art

Art Club had a very diverse group of students that attended the meeting every Tuesday. They enjoyed sharing creative ideas and original artwork with each other because there were many different styles of drawing as well as painting. The students that attended really liked to get advice and opinions from others that shared their love of art.

Ridhi Joshi '07 runs the art club meetings. The members discuss what kind of art styles they would like to experiment with, while Mr. Secler voices his opinion about what different art types can be studied.

Christians on Campus

Christians on Campus had a goal of spreading the word of God to many students. Not only did they try to involve many people in the club, they also helped the needy by organizing a coat drive and working on candy sales to raise money for the less fortunate. The holiday seasons were very difficult, and the help these students gave to others meant the world to many people.

DECA

DECA was a business-marketing organization ideal for students who want to pursue the business world. The club, led by President Cern Saeteurn '06, taught its members about real life situations in the business world through roleplay. It also demonstrated what was expected in the working fields and the skills and abilities that one needs to perform well in various jobs.

Physics Club

With Raechel Tan, Margaret Wangeline, Danielle Des Champs, Michelle Lim, and Glenn Loveall as their leading officers, the club was ready for their science bowl held in January in Berkeley. They met on Mondays at lunch and often practiced after school in preparation for their events. Mr. Mitchell, the Physics teacher, was also their advisor.

Red Cross Club

The Red Cross Club was created and led by its President Gabe Dimalanta '07. Its goal was to fundraise for the Red Cross organization and to also teach members about community service. Although their advisor was a coach, as well as a teacher, Mrs. Gallegos still had time to advise the club every Monday at lunchtime.

Stepp

It all started when four former students decided to form a dance team that was apart from the cheerleaders. Since then, the girls have been working hard, both physically and mentally, to live up to the legacy the original girls had left. Stepping, is "not something that everyone can do, you have to work hard for it," said Trenea Moore.

Drama

Lights, camera, action! Drama Club provided students with a chance to learn more and enjoy all aspects of theater through participation in school plays and attending professional productions. Every other Thursday, Mrs. Zablan, and Sophomores, Michael Doppe, Mallory Theobald, Nicole Narayan, and Mauna Dasari, gathered students together to organize an exhilirating chance of a lifetime to perform.

French Club

Madame Hause and Mrs. Parks tried their best to teach their students about the French language and the French culture. They held fundraisers and went on fieldtrips that enhanced the students' knowledge of France. Students felt that watching plays and eating French food were well deserved after all the overwhelming quizzes, tests, and homework they received.

Future Farmers of America

Every first Tuesday of the month, Mr. Moore, Josh Mejia, Kristian Boyle, Stephen Ramirez, Evelyn Colombo, Keisha Swearingen, and Richard Mejia ran the club FFA. They worked to make a difference in the lives of students by helping to develop their potential for premier leadership, personal growth, and career success through agricultural education.

Future Homemakers of America

What is Future Homemakers of America? FHA was a club that promoted good citizenship and taught proper etiquettes at social events. It also helped promote home economical careers and technology. All their hard work was demonstrated at the "Pizza Party" where they were required to use good social etiquette skills to show all that they learned.

Officers Leslie Zamora '06, Cassandra Kelley '07, Melanie Navarro '08, and Jilissa Bostic '06 take control of this well mannered club with the help of their advisor, Ms. Stasi.

A meeting every Wednesday in E-3 at lunch was ran by Irma Benaridez, '06 and with the help of Juan Angulo, '06 , each meeting was to perceive different cultures and backgrounds. "We accept and celebrate members from all different backgrounds we see," commented their advisor, Mrs. Walling-Sisi. This club was not only to learn about other cultures, but was also filled with many cultural parties.

With the help of Jacy Burroughs '06 and Mrs. Evans, JSA had a great turn out. This club taught students about polictical situations. Throughout the year, meetings were held every Tuesday at lunch. "I love being in this club because you get to understand the political problems around the world," said Katie Hall '06.

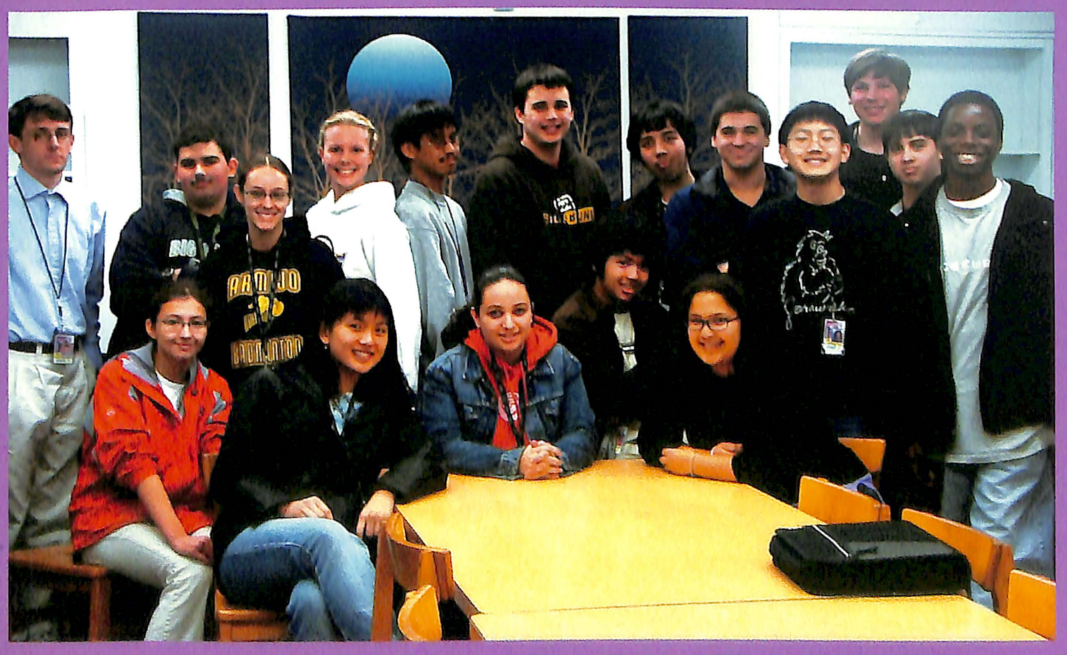
Speech and Debate



Sarah Moazeni,'06 and Christina Rogers, '06 were main leaders in our Speech and Debate Team. With the help of Mr. Mundy, and meetings every Friday at lunch, students improved their speaking and debating skills. These students participated in seven main tournaments at the Lyon's Club and American Legion Speech.

Recycle Club

Recycle Club's main objective was to help the school meet its goal of reducing the amount of trash going into landfills and beautifying the campus. Along the way, they collected recyclable materials which helped them earn money for cooking foods and for off campus activities, such as ice skating and watching movies.

Women in Technology

Mr. Keisling, along with Junior Presidents Stacey Hardin and Carmella Southward, were in charge of this club that taught young women about the opportunities available to them in the technological fields. An important project they strived to accomplish was the QT project. In the end, they can only describe themselves as "tech-savvy."

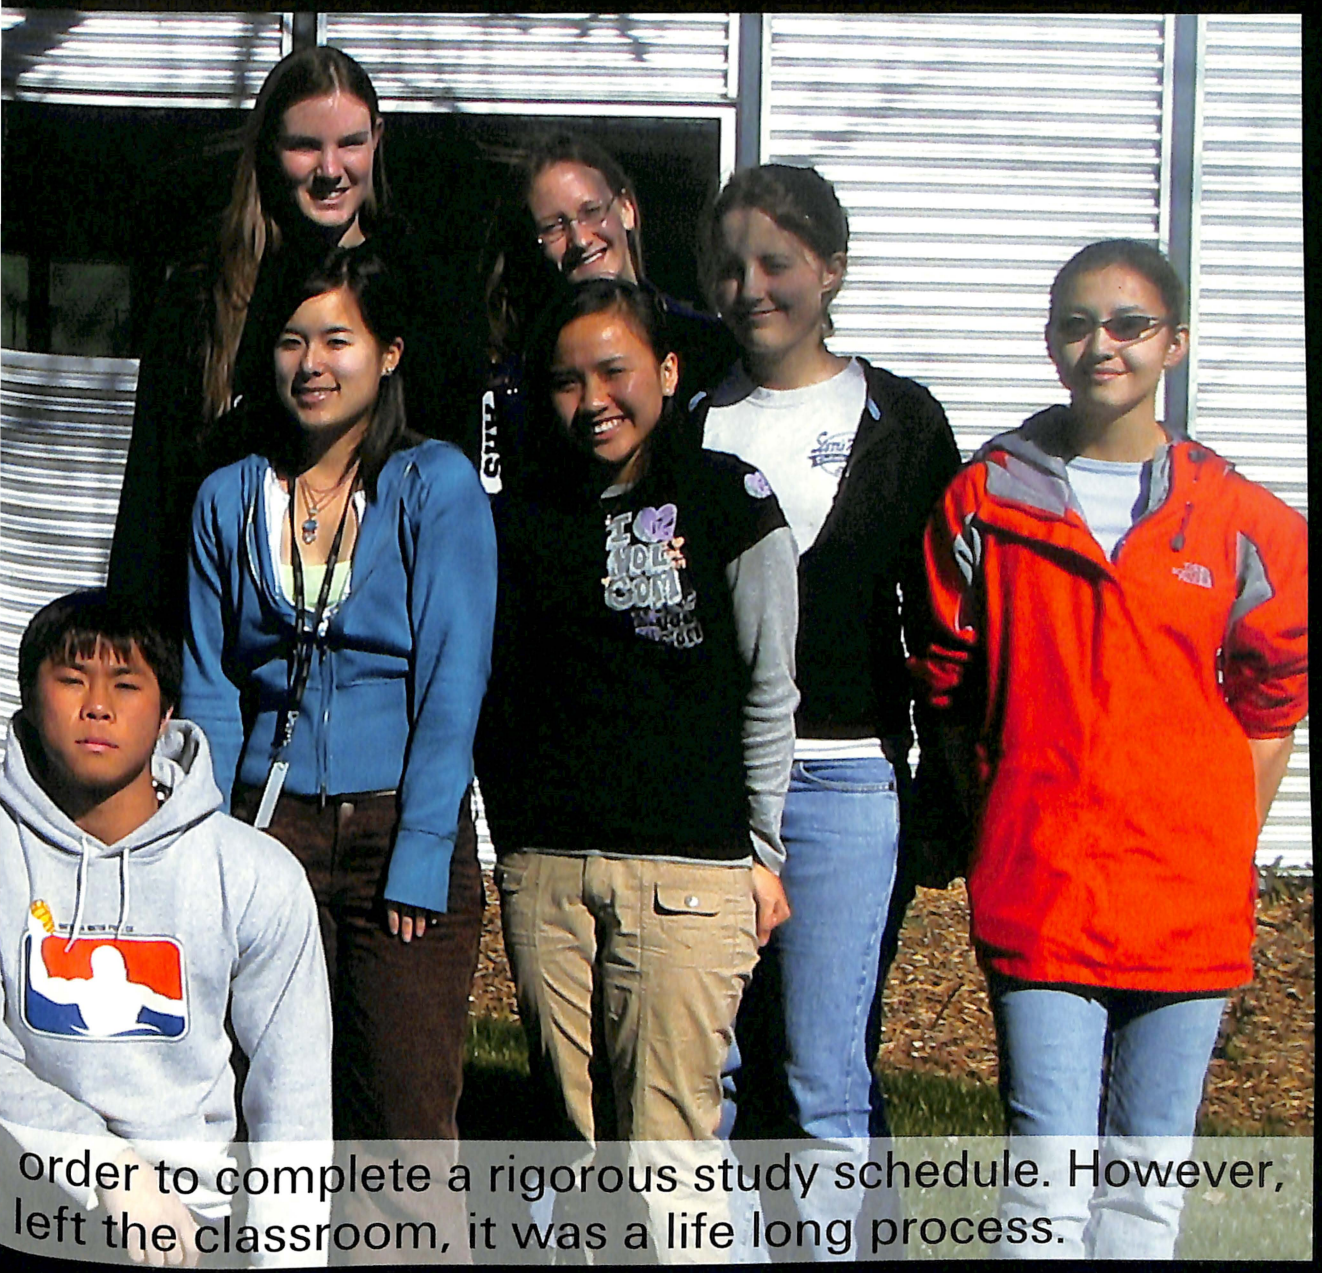
Academics

Students had to stay in focus in the learning didn't end when they

In Focus



order to complete a rigorous study schedule. However, left the classroom, it was a life long process.

[Above] Mrs. Parks, the IB French teacher and current IB advisor, is talking to Caitlin Engell '07 about the IB diploma. Mrs. Parks says "the kids in honors classes are more motivated to do well and are often very involved in the school as well as the community."

Great Expectations

Many students already had an overloaded schedule with sports, outside jobs, and clubs. So why did they decide to take harder classes than necessary? Senior Kirn Dhillon said, "I decided to take honors classes to challenge myself in preparation for Universities." By taking rigorous, more challenging classes, like Honors, AP, or IB, students became well prepared in the long run for college by learning how to work under pressure and enhancing their study habits. Besides the fact that taking honors classes would benefit them in college, it also helped them build good character.

AVIDly Working

There were many students who were determined to go to college; however, they knew they needed some extra help, so they turned to AVID (Advancement Via Individual Determination). AVID was an elective offered to students to provide academic instruction and to prepare them for college. This year, Mr. Gammon managed AVID's sixth year with approximately 75 willing students to teach. The students developed success strategies, learned with college tutors, and participated in extracurricular activities. "It helps me and it is beneficial for college," said Rodin Alarcon '09.

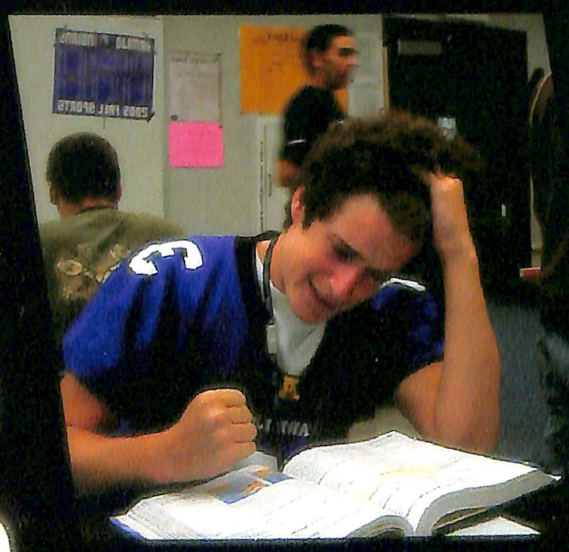
[Middle] Freshman Matthew Heasley is writing a geometrical problem on the board for the class.

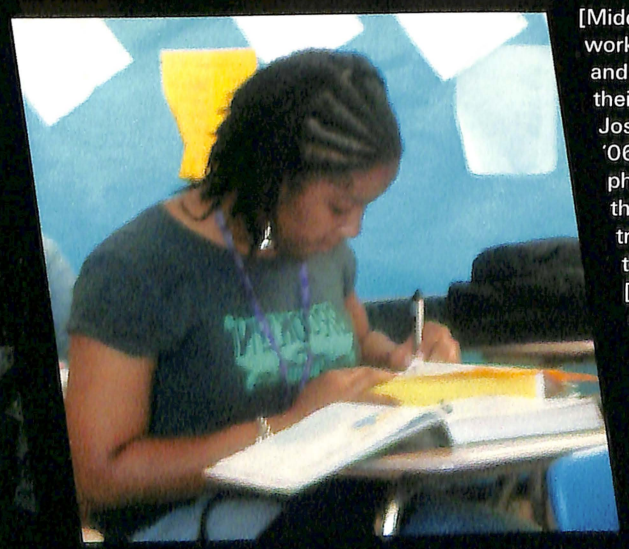
[Bottom] A visiting college tutor is teaching the students a problem, one on three. Mayra Vargas '07 stands trying to understand the tutor's lesson.

[Above] Students cram to study for upcoming tests every chance they get. At school, the library is a common place for students to study. "I often studied in the library so I can concentrate more, and it was always quiet, of course," said Raechel Tan '06.

Study, Study, Study!

Students had a lot on their hands, from school to work, to the countless social teen lives they tried to maintain. Some students worked harder than others to balance it all out. Either way, everyone could not escape the frequent homework and tests given to them by their teachers. Some decided to spend days studying, while others could not help procastinating to the very last period before the test. "I have been studying last minute, and I remember it better that way because it is fresh on my mind," said Mitzie Thompson '08. In the end, everyone endured the work, and some came out more satisfied than others with their results.

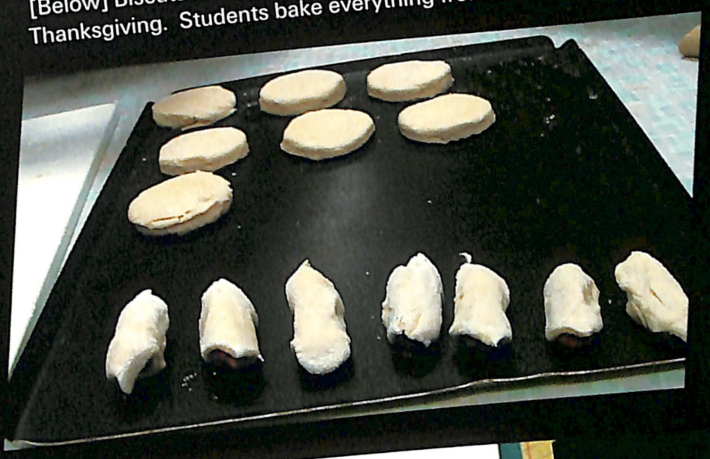




[Middle] Teachers worked hard to make and schedule tests for their students. [Left] Joseph Dean Arnold '06 is stressing over physics and hitting the books, literally, trying to understand the difficult subject. [Right] In her English classroom, senior Angela Libran is finishing some tedious statistics homework so she doesn't have homework at night.

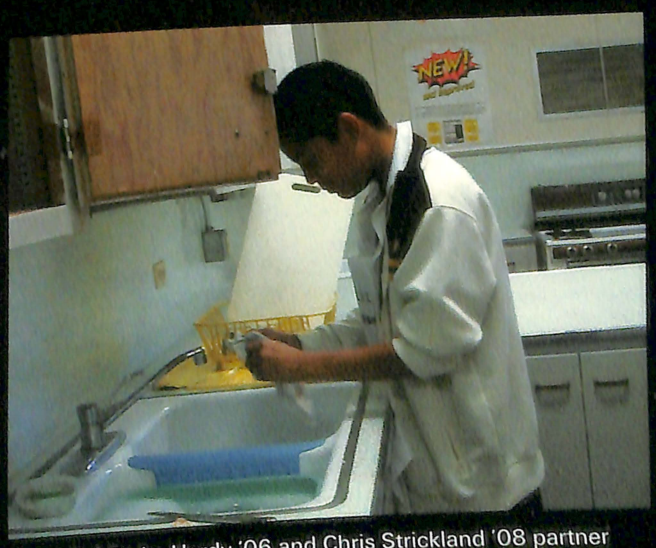
[Right] GiGi Gutierrez '07, is cutting out biscuits with her cookie cutter. She commented, "I enjoy being in foods because I love to cook!"

[Below] Biscuits and hot dogs are cooked in foods class around Thanksgiving. Students bake everything from cookies to bread.



Yummy in My Tummy!

"Hmm... is that good or what!?" was what students in foods class were saying. Foods class was self-explanatory. Of course, students learned how to prepare food. "I decided to take foods because I thought it would be an easy class and we get to eat, and plus it's my senior year so I wanted an easy class," commented Mark Viray '06. As the year went on, C-Hall kept filling with the different aromas of foods everyday. "The students love and enjoy what they do in here and I try to make it as fun as possible," said Mrs. Stasi.



[Middle] Eryka Hardy '06 and Chris Strickland '08 partner up to bake their hot dogs and biscuts to perfection.

[Bottom] Calvin Villanueva '09 does a good job of cleaning up after his baking session."Foods is fun because I get to cook and then we get to eat whatever I cook," said Calvin.

[Above] Nishi Trewn '06 and Brett Chikowski '07 get ready to launch their egg casing to see if their creative design would keep the egg intact. Nishi stated, "Mr. Mitchell taught me a lot about momentum and impulse by doing this experiment."

Dexter's Laboratory

Whether you decided to take biology, chemistry, physics, or even medical science, science was a class that everyone was required to take. "I'm not really a huge fan of science. I prefer chemistry over biology because even though it was hard, it somehow clicked with me. I gotta thank Mrs. Hacker for that!" said Neal Pascua '07. Each science class offered an array of information such as learning about chemical equations, the ecosystem, or the way our body works. Students were able to participate in hands on labs, dissections, and different experiments. "The labs enhance my learning by making everything interesting," commented Jeannine Santos '06.

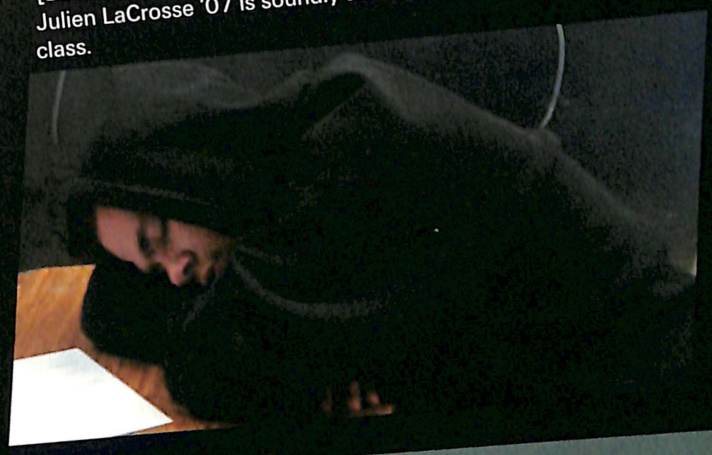
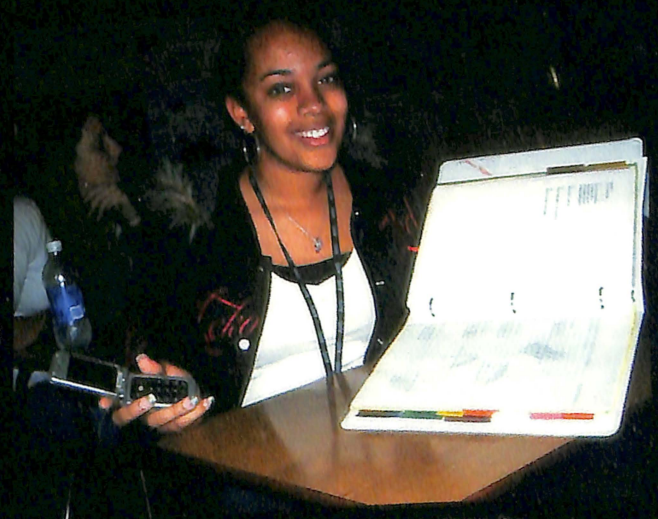
[Right] Seniors Melissandra Russell and Allison Fernandez are eating to prepare for their exam in the next period.

[Bottom] Sleeping in class was a constant bother for teachers. Julien LaCrosse '07 is soundly asleep in his honors economics class.



Dazed and Confused

Everyone knew that it was a very difficult task to stay focused on their studies. Students stared at the ceiling, drew random pictures on their papers, and even pulled out their graphing calculators to play games such as Snood and Tetris. "Kids can find almost anything to distract themselves from learning," said teacher Mr. Burzynski. Even with the overload of homework and tests, students still managed to find time to relax, and then return to their studies. "I usually stay focus," said Glenn Loveall '06, "but it depends on the class, the teacher, and lunch."



[Middle] Michael Gomez '08 was researching for information on a school project when he lost concentration and found himself exploring myspace.

[Bottom] Sophomore Andrea Thompson is torn between continuing to work on her homework or calling a friend.

[Above] Mrs. Tomko teaches more than just mathematics. She also teaches a foreign language, German. Here she is writing "I can talk in German. Can you?" on the whiteboard to her class.

Lost in Translation

Allez-bien! ¡Buen viaje! Komm mit! Many students took a foreign language; whether it was French, Spanish, or German, the students learned a lot. Students took these classes for various reasons. Whether it was to enhance their cultural awareness or to just get into college, everyone had a reason. "French is awesome," said Ana Padilla '07. Some students got very involved and visited the country of the foreign language they studied. Others learned the material and simply tried to pass their class. Overall, everyone took new knowledge of a country out of their foreign language class.

[Below] Isabela Paraguay, Katharina Busse, Tina Fent, Amandine Mathio and Amanda Countinho eat lunch in Mrs. Parks room during an AFS meetings. "I miss my family and friends back in Germany," says Busse.

Around the World in 80 Days

Imagine leaving your own country for another where the culture is very different. You'd be apprehensive and unsure of how things would turn out. Well, these were the feelings felt by this year's students in the foreign exchange program. Isabela Paraguay (Brazil), Amanda Coutinho (Brazil) Annika Bruning (Germany), Tina Fent (Germany), Katharina Busse (Germany), and Amandine Mathio (France) took on the challenge of leaving their family, their friends, and their familiarities. Amandine Mathio says, "The American people are really open minded and nice. They come to talk, even if they don't know you." In the end, these students earned a valuable life experience that they'd never forget and there were no regrets. Annika Bruning says, "I love everything about America, especially my host family."

Administration and Staff

Rick Vaccaro

Rick Vaccaro is one face on campus that is always well-known. He has been the principal at our school for four years now, after spending about two years prior as a vice principal. His primary job is to be an instructional leader. He walks around campus and makes sure that everything runs smoothly. Vaccaro also watches over classrooms to observe the students and the teachers. Over the years, he had been wandering all around Fairfield and Suisun City trying to find the school of his dreams. So, why did he decide to work here instead of another high school? "I love the traditions and history of Armijo," he said. "It was always my goal to become principal at this school." He also believes that "diversity is our strength" and what makes our school different from all others. The moment that Vaccaro loves the most and looks forward to every year is graduation-when the students' four years of hard work pays off.

Jaron Barney

Jaron Barney graduated from Armijo in 1988. Since then, he has been working hard to manage the school. He loves our school because there is something here for everyone. Barney's main focuses are: IB, AP, Honors, A-G requirements, and student activities. Working with students activities gave him a chance to relive his high school years when he worked with leadership.

Susan Ceballos

Susan Ceballos is an administrator that people have grown to love. She has held this position for two years now. Her job entitles her to work with teachers, manage discipline programs, and do evaluations. She loves the students and traditions, and it brings her happiness knowing that she "can touch one person at a time" academically and emotionally.

Mark Dietrich has progressed greatly in his career. He had spent 21 years at Grange Middle School, and now, he has been an administrator at this school for five years. Dietrich is very familiar with our school because he went here in 1974. He was a standout athlete and participated in basketball, football, and baseball. All in all, he loves the campus and the traditions of this school.

Mark Dietrich

William Gregg has been at our school for 25 years now. He has witnessed the growth of the trees that every student passes by along the main hall benches. This is his fourth year as an administrator spent many years teaching technology related subjects. His favorite thing here are the students, because they are the nicest, most energetic, and motivated people he has ever met.

Hey LOVE,

No matter how old you'll get or how much you'll achieve, in our eyes you'll always be our baby sister. Growing up together, we have teased and joked around with you, but you still love us like fat kid loves chocolate cake. =D Not to mention, your love for ice cream, cookies, SF GIANTS, and Schidmty will never go away. Also, your wishful thinking will always be hilarious and your spontaneous outbursts will forever leave marks in our memories. Let's not forget your once impossible goal: to collect and to make a million paper stars in your lifetime. (We're glad you came to your senses now. =P)

If we could give you anything, we would… except for your dream to be taller. We can't help you grow any taller, but we can help you grow into a better person. Continue to hit base hits, homeruns, and even grand slams tag out. If the opportunity arises, steal a base, but just remember, don't get caught. ^_^ If anything goes wrong, it was the mother-Dodgers who did it and always remember, we have your back. All in all, always step up to the plate and don't look back. Move forward to achieve greater things in your life. We're rooting for you, LOVE! GO QUEEN!

From the Home Team,
The Phamle Family

Jenica Rose Taitano

Jena,

God truly blessed us the day you were born. You brought such a ray of sunshine to our lives and completed our family as the baby of three beautiful girls. It seems like only yesterday you grasped our hands so tightly as we walked you in to your kindergarten class. And now, as we release our grip as you approach your graduation, know that we do so with love, pride, and faith. You have grown in to a strong, beautiful young woman. There is no doubt that you will accomplish all that you set your mind to. We are so proud of you, Neni! May God continue to bless you!

All of our love,
Mom and Dad

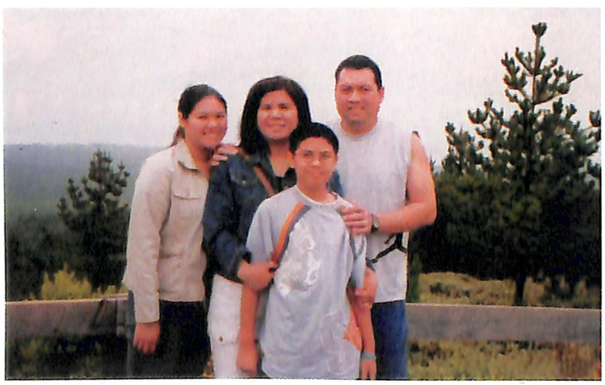
Melissa Cerina

To Our Only Daughter Melissa Leatrice,

Over the years we have watched you grow from being a little girl who always loved being sung and danced to sleep, to a very fine, matured, responsible young lady. You are very humble, kind, a beautiful inside and out. You always show respect to everyone around you. Ever since you were little, you have always been a dreamer and an achiever, which we have always admired. Now, it's time for you to go out there and fulfill all of your dreams. Whether you become a lawyer, a doctor, or a businesswoman, we just want to let you know, that we support you in whatever you do. Thank you so much for being a good daughter, and for being a good sister to your brother Mark. We are so proud of you, and we love you so much! Congratulations on a job well done! God bless you always.

Love,
Dad & Mom



Lauren Robinson

Congratulations Lauren,
You have brought so much joy and happiness into our lives. We just want you to know how proud we are of you.

Love Always,

Nishi Trewn

CONGRATULATIONS MISS NISHITA TREWN!

Nishita you are a wonderful blessing,
A treasure from above.
You are laughter, warmth, and a special charm,
You are thoughtfulness and love.

You bring a special joy,
That comes from deep inside
And as you grow to adulthood,
You fill our hearts with pride.

With every year that passes,
You are more special than before.
Through every stage, through every age,
We love you even more.

No words can describe the warm memories,
The pride and gratitude, too.
That comes from having a daughter,
To love and to cherish... just like you!

With love from Dad, Mom, and your brother Jack

(La Nostra Principessa, La Nostra Cara, Il Nostro Amore)
Our Princess, Our Darling, Our Love

The joy you have brought us
Through the years and those to come
Are treasures we will always hold dear in our hearts,
Your accomplishments, academically, and athletically,
Are a source of pride for us, as they should be for you,
You are a gift from God for which we are thankful for everyday Continue to strive, continue to be you, and always continue to reach for the stars

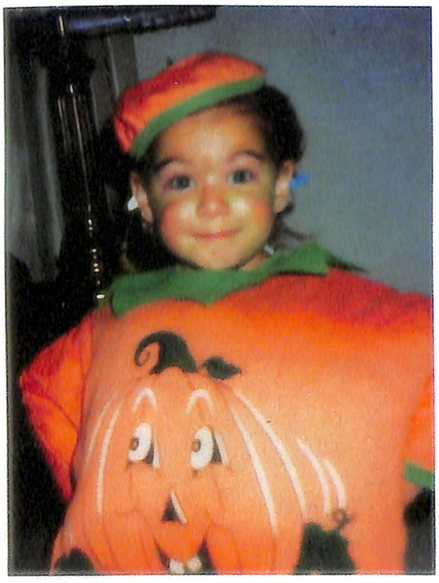
Cuor forte rompe cattiva sorte
(Nothing is impossible to a willing heart)

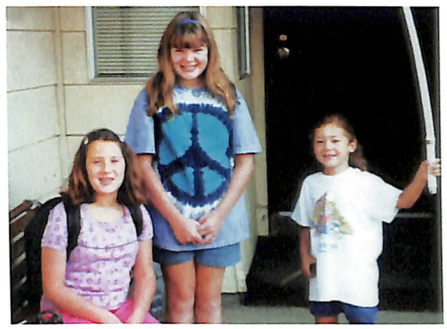
WE ARE SO VERY PROUD OF YOU!

All of our love
Mom, Dad, Thomas, Travis and Trevor



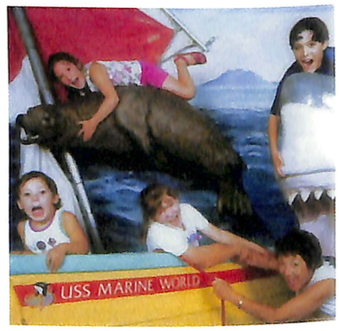
Heather Johnson

Tyson Ritter from "All American Rejects"



You gave us joy the moment you entered our lives and have continued to enlighten our lives daily. You have grown into a wonderfully beautiful and intelligent young woman and continue to make us laugh with your "random" remarks and witty personality. Watching you grow up into this incredible creature has been an experience worthwhile. Your magnetic personality has brought many wonderful friends into our lives and for that we thank you.

We have enjoyed being there for all of your water polo games and swim meets. We wish you only continued success in all that you do and be rich in life, like we have since you are in it. Enjoy life and keep up the great work. We love you and we are very proud of you!
Congratulations Heather!



Hugs and Kisses
Love,
Mom, Dad, Shelby, and Dylan

Autumn Rose

Congratulations Autumn!

Your kind heart, smile and goodness brings joy to all who know you!
We are so proud of what you have done,
What you will do,
But most of all your courage and strength to do what makes you happy.

We are very honored to call you our daughter.

Love,
Mom, Dad and Kristina

From the moment we first stepped foot on school grounds, we didn't know what to expect. We were all in different places in our lives, but somehow we found each other and we wouldn't want in any other way. We endured many hardships from drama to heartbreaks, and even deaths, but didn't let that bring us down. We continued living our lives as if each day was our last, never letting a precious moment slip by. We made the best of every situation, and found the most happiness in the one thing we all loved and had in common: FOOD. Amazingly, our appetites never left us short of a good time, always uniting us under one roof and one full stomach. So now, here we all go in our own seperate directions, living different lives but we will never forget the moments we laughed and cried together, nor will we forget that when we eat, we're always together heart and soul!! Hey you guys, guess what?! It's out time to shine and leave Armijo. I don't know how i net ya, but i'm glad! Good luck and call me sometimes, I'm not goin too far! I'm gonna miss you guys. -Sarah

All the memories we've shared over the past 4 years have truly been unforgettable! I will miss all of our laughs, jokes, and crazy randomness! But as we continue on in our lives, just know that i'm always one call away...so don't be a stranger! I love you guys!!! -Melissa

Wat it do?! Just wanna say congratulations and good luck we made it through 4 yrs.Guess what?...We are the first class to ride the yellow bus! Yadididig Yadidafeelme? Get hyphy! We will miss you all! -gigi and allison

Hand in hand we walked this path called "life" together. I love you guys, I truly do. And with that, I wish each one of you love, success, and life beyond the borders of this school and our friendships. TTYL, TTBOC, bye for now :| -Queen

You know it's hard to tel what girls are thinking. I'm the only boy in the group now, but it's tight like that! I luv all ya'll girls! I'll miss all ya'll! And don't party too hard in college! -Albert

Oh-Kay guys...here goes...I don't know what to say except that i'll miss you guys dearly! I'm kinda mad at you guys for leaving me alone, but nonetheless, I LOVE YOU GUYS! Don't forget me cuz I won't forget you. - Patdy

It seems like it was just yesterday that all of us we're chillen in the parking lot in my trucko or firguring what we wanted to do for short wednesday, or getting hyphy in an intersection HAHA HAHA.....AWW! Now all of you are leaving to go to college... what are we gonna do w/out u guys...it's madness I tell you!! Naw but ferreal i'm really gonna miss you all...psh I do now I wish i could still be there with all of you. Don't worry i'll find a way! I love you guys and congrates c/o '06 -Alex

Can you believe that the big day is finally here? Now we can actually say we've made it. It's amazing how 4 yrs of school has given us soooo much to bring along with us: from all of the laugher, tears, jokes, crazy moments, randomness, kodak moments, goin' stupid dumb, satisfying our hunger pains, and all the unforgettable memories that i'll cherish forever..fasho!! I LOVE YOU guys to the fullest!!! I wish everyone the best of luck and never to forget the moments we've shared together. '06!!!!!! -Ali

To my Homie-Gee-Dawgs: The day we won't share times of making fun of each other grubbi on that fantabulous scrumptious food. The day we all group together for possibly the last time, as we smile & cry in our caps & gowns, without any notion of where the future will take us. I never thought this day would actually arrive. This was the year that goin' "Stupid-Dumb-& Hyphy" was actually a good thing! "'0-6 WAT IT DO barbeque?! You guys will always be in my thoughts & prayers, as major elements of the best Friendships rated to the max! Love you! -Jena

then - ♥ - BASHERS - ♥ - now

forever

A close group of friends that have experienced good & bad times through the years & will always remain the best of friends.

Katie ~ The past 13 yrs with you have meant more to me than you will ever know. When I look back I don't think I could've done any of it without you. I know we will never grow apart because you are not only a huge part of my life you are a part of me. I am forever thankful to have you as a friend and to have shared so many memories with you. I love you endlessly. ☺ I look forward to the future because I know this is only the beginning. ... we have so much more to experience. Love Always, Melisandra Russell

Meli - We are graduating, can you believe it? we have been friends for 13 years! How can I express how much you mean to me? I dont think words can describe the love I have for you. I not only think of you as my best friend, but as my sister. You have been there for me any time I needed you, and for that I thank you. I cant imagine what these four important years of my life would have been like without you. I love you, and may you have the best of luck in the future I know you will do great! Love Katie Wiggins

Jessica Curtis

Dear Jess,

From the moment you were born you won our hearts.
Your spunky little determination and sweet, endearing nature have made this journey a joy.

And still our beautiful smile brightens our day – your caring makes everyone around you happy. Your strength and independent spirit will take you far as they always have – with grace and style.

We're all so proud of you, honey.
May you always stay true to your beautiful self and may all your dreams come true.

Love,
Mom and your loving family

We're so proud of you, Jeggie.
You're gorgeous inside and out!
You'll always be our baby sister.
Forever the 3 little girls!

DECISIONS ARE A VERY IMPORTANT THING.
GOOD DECISIONS WILL HELP YOU, BAD DECISIONS WILL HINDER YOU.
THAT'S WHY YOU SHOULD MAKE DECISIONS WISELY.
EACH DAY YOU HAVE THE OPPORTUNITY TO MAKE DECISIONS THAT'LL MAKE YOU PROUD OF THE PERSON YOU ARE AND THE PERSON YOU'LL SOMEDAY BE.
SO WALK EACH DAY WITH HONOR, INTEGRITY, SELF-RESPECT AND PRIDE, AND LIVE A LIFE THAT REFLECTS YOUR ABILITIES, DREAMS, INTEGRITY AND HONOR.
THIS WAY WHEN YOU COME TO A CROSSROAD IN LIFE, A GOOD DECISION IS BOUND TO BE AWAITING YOU.

Mom and Dad

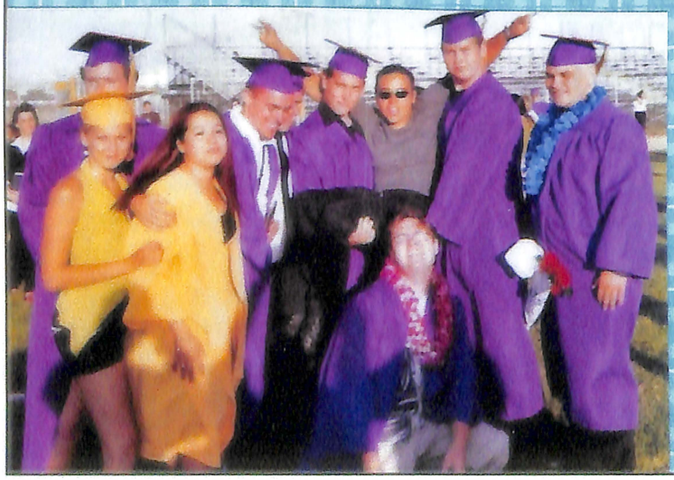
"A man that walks in fear is a man that walks without God."
Ammir Souder



Best friends are those who are always there. They are the one's who really care. They make you happy when you are down. They make you smile instead of frown. They are to whom you confide in always with an open ear, ready to listen. They stand by you in every decision that you make. They help mend your heart if it may break Never take advantage of your best friends. You never know when that friendship might end. Be there for them as they are there for you And your friendship with them will always be true. In memory of Richard Perry Trevor West-Sexton We love you with all of our hearts.

Colophon

This year, the theme of our yearbook was Now Playing at Armijo. The theme was an attempt to show the parallels between the movies and Armijo High School. The role that we play in high school helps to define us as individuals.

The editors developed the theme for the book in the summer of 2005. The book is 280 pages long and, for the first time, all pages are in color. Herff Jones produced 1150 copies of our book in Logan, Utah; the job number for the book was 7042. The price of each book was $65 if it was bought with an ASB card. Our Herff Jones representative was Deana Kuhlman, who was a second advisor to the yearbook staff. Editors in chief, Jessica Bellerive and Stacey Hardin, and a series of Herff Jones artists designed the cover, index, title page, opening pages and dividers.

The font used was AHJ Unitus for all captions and stories. Collegiate Photography in Vacaville, California took the senior portraits and underclassmen photos. The book was composed of digital pictures and hard copy photos.

We want to give a HUGE thank you to everybody who helped in the making and assembling of this book. Thank you to the entire faculty for allowing us to pull students out of class for interviews and pictures. We also wanted to thank Mrs. Wolf for helping us manage the yearbook money. Finally, we want to thank Coach Dahl for providing us with all the sports rosters.

Another big thank you goes to Mrs. Deana Kuhlman. You are the BEST Herff Jones Representative ever! WE LOVE YOU! Thanks for all of your patience when our computers didn't work, making your husband put job stickers on the baby pictures and always sending us encouraging e-mails.

Thanks to last year's editors in chief, Melissa Ferentheil and Megan Bacigalupi, and the rest of the editing staff. You girls taught us so much and we are so grateful for all the valuable lessons that we learned from you. We hope this book will make you proud!

Finally, we want to thank our advisor, Mr. Brad Burzynski. We will never forget the many editions of Brad, banning food from the classroom, "it has to do with manners", the giant yellow foot and "I invite you to drink water now." Thanks for uploading pictures and adding energy and youth to the room.

We want to dedicate this yearbook to the Class of 2006. As we leave this school and the role we have played for the past four years and move onto another, we will never forget the memories of Armijo High.
